What The Aliens Told Us About God, Jesus,

Dr. Carl Jung: UFOs could be linked to the symbol of mandala. If the extraterrestrial origin of these phenomena should be confirmed, this would prove the existence of an intelligent interplanetary relationship.
What such a fact might mean for humanity cannot be predicted, but could alter the norms of morality.

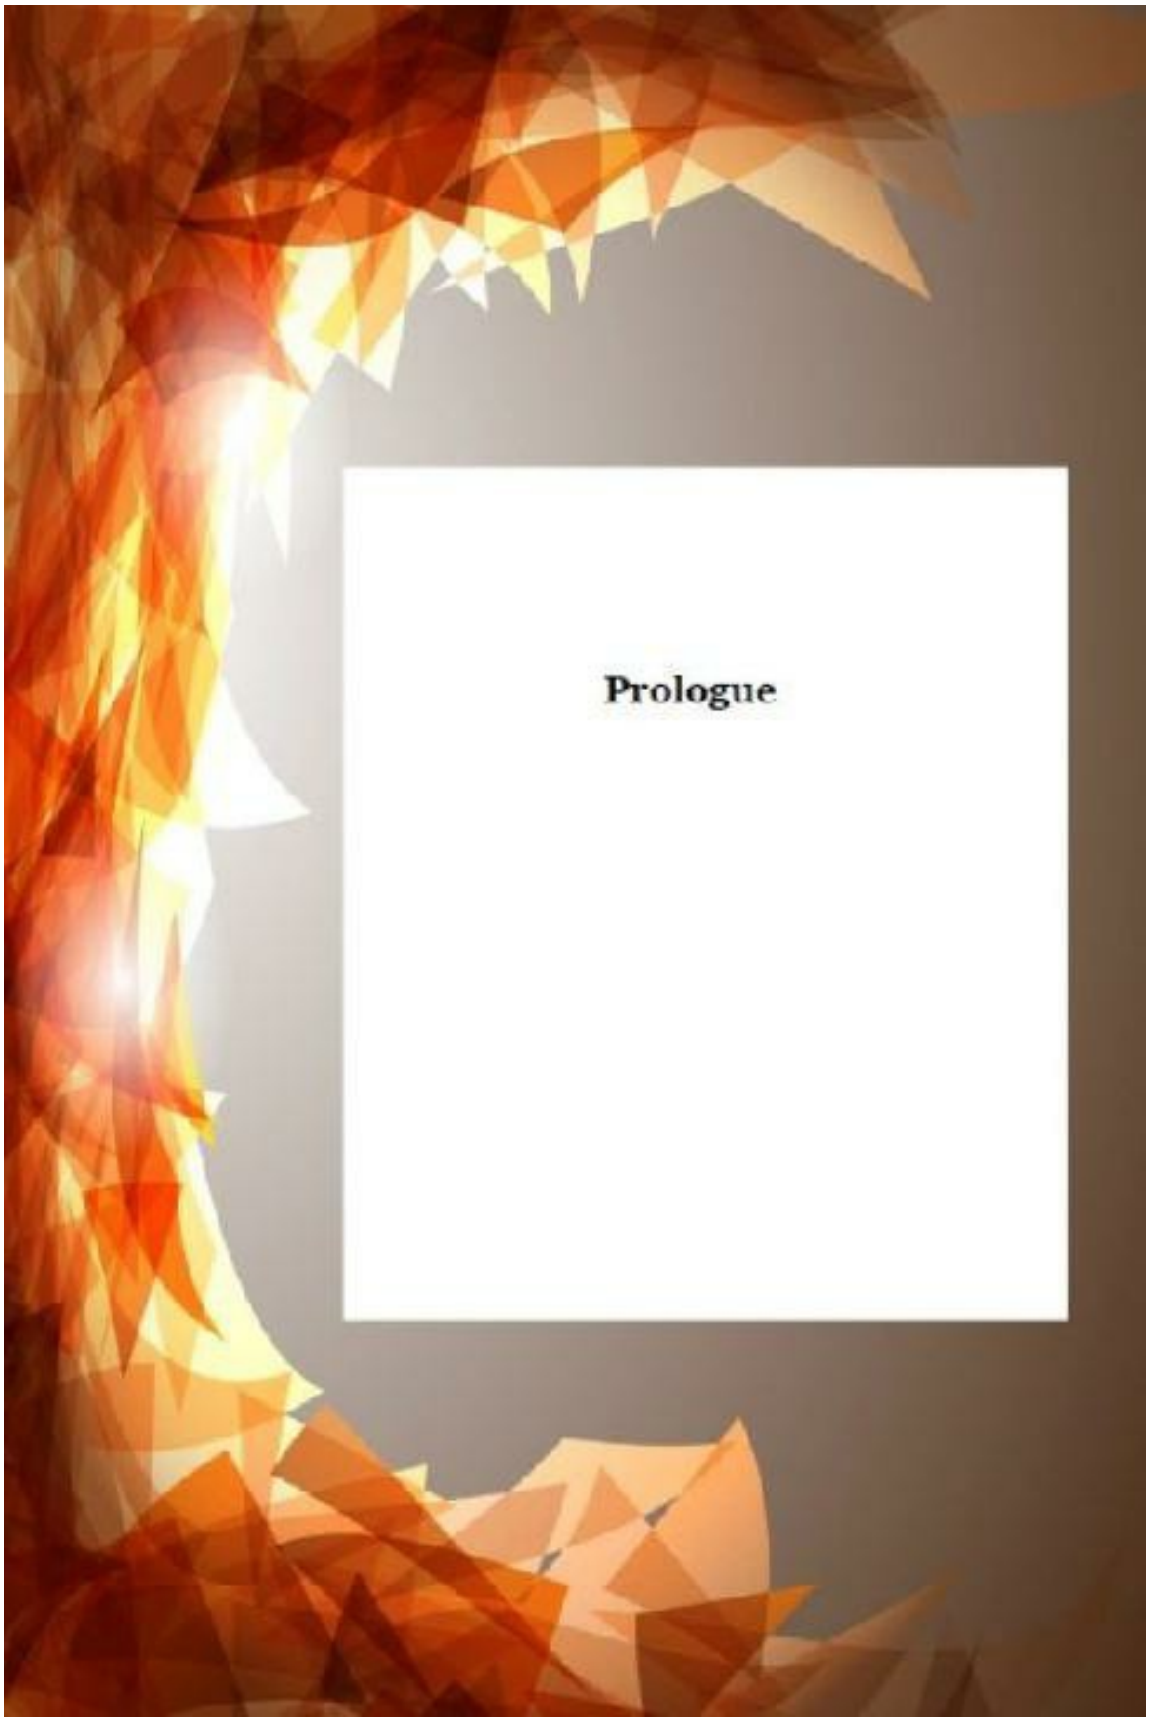
Dr. Stephen Hawking: We should avoid any contact with aliens, their belief systems (religious and social) could be in sharp contrast with ours.
If aliens ever visit us, I think the outcome would be much as when Christopher Columbus first landed in America, which didn't turn out very well for the Native Americans.

President Ronald Reagan: And yet, I ask is not an alien force already among us?

Charles Lindbergh: UFOs are closely linked to a paranormal phenomenon, and to some species from another solar system, and perhaps aliens are multi-dimensional beings.

Edgar Cayce: Arcturus is one of the most advanced civilizations in this galaxy. Its energies work as emotional, mental, and spiritual healers for humanity.

Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber: Beings from other planets could be one of the many manifestations of God's creation.



Prologue

Prologue

Ufology of yesteryears.

In the early sixties, I was among the very first, and very few authors who talked and wrote about extraterrestrials, and alien civilizations.

Back then, we were not called ufologists, and ufology as we know it today did not exist.

The literature on UFOs, aliens and extraterrestrials during the early years of that period was very minimal, despite the publication of two successful magazines devoted to flying saucers and alien invasion.

The subject was a novelty, and consequently it captured the attention of the masses. No more than 40 or 50 books were published at that time, and no videos or clips were posted on the world wide web, the Internet and in social media, as it is the case today. The sphere of the so-called ufology was divided into two camps;

1-The “insiders” who worked for the government on projects and research programs related to UFOs.

2-The outsiders (Authors, inquisitors and the general public).

To a certain degree, 90% of what was written or published was a colorful literature on a subject little known to the public or understood by enthusiasts and the masses.

De facto, a handful of “thinkers” in the field knew what was going on during that period despite the fact of lacking vital data, and reliable information pertaining to the subjects of UFOs and extraterrestrials.

Those who knew “something” were in the military and civilian insiders, who in some shape, form or capacity were part of a very restricted group of scientists and technicians who were recruited by the military to study and "dissect" the enigmatic phenomenon of flying saucers…and they kept their mouth shut.

A possibility…

If you are among those who believe that our government's representatives met with aliens/extraterrestrials, then, and logically, you should entertain or consider the possibility that some of the subjects discussed during those meetings would be of a religious or at least moral or ethical nature, especially since at least three powerful religious leaders in our country attended one or two meetings with aliens on an American soil.

In fact, this is exactly what happened.

And we will be discussing the concerns and the questions of those religious dignitaries, the answers of the aliens, and how a synopsis of the discussions between our religious leaders and aliens ended up on the desk and in the secret vaults of foreign governments, and religious authorities thanks to their religious affiliation and/or loyalty to their faith's hierarchy!

In fact, religious leaders in the United States, in England, and in the Vatican managed to convince the military and The White House to conceal from the American people and from the world any and all revelations and comments given by aliens about religions, God, religious faith, man's soul, the afterlife, the creation of the universe, hell and heaven, the Holy Scriptures, Christianity, and Jesus Christ.

Nothing is more boring than UFOs and aliens' TV shows.

It is fine and even necessary –for a while– to watch TV shows on aliens, extraterrestrials and UFOs, especially if you are watching them for the first time, and/or you are not familiar with such subjects.

To the well-informed, and to insiders in particular, nothing is more boring than these shows, for the contents of almost each episode are almost identical, repetitive, and rehashed ad infinitum; it is the same stories over and over again ad nauseam, such as Area 51, Roswell's UFO crash, MJ12, flying saucers over Washington, aliens' autopsy, interviews with the same people, authors and witnesses, conspiracy theorists, and ufologists we got tired and sick of…tired and sick of seeing their faces and hearing them all the time.

After listening to them (The same people) for so long, week after week, month after month, year after year, show after show on so many TV networks, and hearing them telling us the same repetitive stories, with their intense insistence on governments' cover-ups, and UFOs' sighting here and there, we get fed up with them, and we lost interest in UFOs and extraterrestrials.

We already know that UFOs exist.

So why ufologists and their followers keep on repeating the same old stories (factual or false) and endless accounts of UFOs' sightings?

Because they have nothing else to talk about. And mainly because they are "Outsiders". Simply put, they have no clues of what is going on "Behind the Curtains".

And "curtains" means the inaccessible, the true, and the secretive world of extraterrestrials and UFOs known only to governments' agencies, the military, the CIA, and scientists, who were secretly involved with programs, research and projects jointly conducted by governments and aliens, and which are far beyond the reach of ufologists and authors of books on UFOs and extraterrestrials.

Alien technology/reverse engineering, and the metaphysical/religious concerns.

Between 1947 and 1951, no less than 200 scientists and technicians were recruited by the United States Air Force, the Pentagon, and the CIA to study the phenomenon of UFOs, sightings' reports, witnesses' accounts, crashes' sites, recovery of crashed UFOs, and above all alien technology and reverse engineering.

The main interest of our government was focused on and rotated around alien technology, and how this technology could be reversed, duplicated, produced, and eventually used as weapons' systems.

The subjects pertaining to the religious and metaphysical aspects of the aliens' phenomenon were not en rigueur, for they were addressed and discussed for relatively a very short period in 1947 and 1948. By the end of March 1948, these subjects were no longer of any interest to the military and the CIA, for obvious reasons, which I will refer to in forthcoming chapters.

By June 1948, these subjects were no longer discussed by our government. However, the Church, and especially the Vatican in Rome remained vividly and ardently preoccupied by these subjects, and consequently, a large and a secret library/department (On UFOs and aliens' topics) at the Vatican were established by a Papal order issued by Pope Pius XII.

Revealing statistics:

Here are some statistics for you:

- 91% of books and papers published on UFOs, aliens, and extraterrestrials published between 1971 and 2016 constantly refer to governments' cover-ups and conspiracies.
- 92% discuss identical topics.
- 94% contain almost similar reports on UFOs' sightings and witnesses' accounts.
- 82% of authors and ufologists relentlessly talk about alien abduction and/or the alien's agenda.
- 98% of TV shows on aliens and UFOs flash before our very own eyes, the same and repetitive stories and reports, such as: The "Roswell Daily Record" newspaper's headline of a UFO's crash nearby Roswell (RAAF Captures Flying Saucer on Ranch in Roswell Region), and Major Jesse Marcel showing the debris (wreckages) of a weather's balloon, etc.
- 91% of TV shows on aliens and UFOs repeat the same stories about Area 51, produce the same photos of military signs warning intruders about the use of deadly force in "Restricted Area", so on…

After a while, it gets extremely boring!

What is more important?

Don't you think that there are more important subjects and aspects of UFOs and aliens we should talk about and explore for the benefit of humanity than UFOs' sightings?

In your opinion, what is more important, a repetitive story of a UFO's crash we heard zillions of times before or what the aliens have told us about the fabric of the universe, their habitats, the fabricated concept of God, the reason for the creation of religions, the "Soul" and the future of humanity in this dimension and the world beyond?

What is more informative, more important, and more enlightening, a report on UFOs' sightings over Washington, or the reason why aliens hover over our cities, the purpose of their visit, or the message of a multi-dimensional galactic civilization and its impact on our life and future?

In my sincere opinion, what is more important and more vital than a story about a UFO's sighting, ufologists' meaningless and superficial visits to Area 51, or a UFO's crash, Is what the aliens themselves have revealed to us in a series of meetings in 1947 and 1948, about the greatest secrets of the universe, the mystery of the creation, space and time, and the fate of man, such as:

- 1-The reality of God; does the concept or idea of a God exist on other planets?
- 2-Do aliens believe in God? Yes? No? And why?
- 3-Do aliens believe in reincarnation?
- 4-Do aliens have a soul?
- 5-Do humans have a soul or something else which animates the physical body? Nobel Prize winner, and the Discoverer of Human DNA, Dr. Francis Crick wrote: "The astonishing hypothesis is, that there is no soul. The soul is not more or less than the neural processes in our brain." The Anunnaki Ulema claim that human beings do not have a soul per se, but rather a cellular energy emanating from the human brains. In other words, the soul is a religious invention, while the MIND is an absolute reality.
- 6-Is Jesus known to aliens?
- 7-Who really created the human race?
- 8-Life after death. How aliens explained to us the realm of the world beyond. Do aliens believe in hell and heaven?
- 9-Who is keeping the Universe in order?
- God or a cosmic equilibrium?

- And what is cosmic equilibrium?
- And who is God?
- 10-Biological structure and organism of the bodies of aliens, extraterrestrials and intraterrestrials.
- 11-Who created us? God of the Bible?
- Cosmic dust?
- The stars?
- Or aliens themselves?

These are the questions and topics I shall be addressing in this book.

The meta-physical and spiritual aspects of aliens:

I am fascinated by the meta-physical and spiritual aspects of aliens (Extraterrestrials and Intraterrestrials), because deep down in my heart and somewhere in the dark corners of my mind, I am still wondering whether aliens progress, and evolve spiritually, mentally and meta-physically.

Some have said that highly advanced societies including galactic civilizations are usually more peaceful and more spiritual than other communities and lower civilizations on the ladder of enlightenment, knowledge and science.

Therefore, we have no reason at all to fear extraterrestrials because they are highly advanced.

But is it true?

Not at all.

Dr. Stephen Hawking said: “We should avoid any contact with them…most certainly, their belief systems (religious and social) could be in sharp contrast with ours. If aliens ever visit us, I think the outcome would be much as when Christopher Columbus first landed in America, which didn’t turn out very well for the Native Americans.”

Earth’s history convinced us that once upon a time the most advanced societies -technically and scientifically- were the most violent and the most threatening ones.

Take for example, the Roman Empire; a fabulous and majestic empire, still, one of the most oppressive and violent empires which crucified hundreds of thousands of people, threw human beings in the gladiators' arenas to be devoured alive by lions and wild cats.

The Roman law was considered the pillar of European laws for centuries, yet, it allowed slavery, tortures, crucifixion, dismembering people, and barbarism.

Alexander of Macedonia is called Alexander the Great, and his nation's glory was built upon his conquests and wars. His brutal conquests adhered to his greatness; yet, Alexander the great destroyed almost each and every civilization in the ancient Middle East and Near East, and slaughtered women and children in Tyre in ancient Phoenician and destroyed majestic civilizations like the great Empire of Darius of Persia. The Romans and the Greeks were highly advanced, philosophically, socially, and scientifically, yet they were among the cruelest and bloodiest civilizations in recorded history. And most recently, we have witnessed what the most advanced nation on Earth in science, music, physics, chemistry, biology, engineering, performing arts, medicine, psychology, anthropology, and psychiatry, has done to millions of innocent people, the elderly, women and children, and how it annihilated country after country in Europe during World War Two with air raids, tanks, bombs, and biological warfare!

I am referring to Nazi Germany, then, the most advanced nation on Earth, yet the most brutal and savage one in recorded history.

So, advancement and progress, science and knowledge do not categorically guarantee spiritual evolution, peace, fairness, equality, goodness, and justice.

This leads us to pose the following questions:

1-Are aliens spiritually developed?

2-Do they believe in God? What kind of a God?

3-Do they have a religion? Any sort of religion?

4-Do they believe in a Biblical justice?

5-Do they believe in a Final Judgement?

6-Do they believe in Hell and heaven?

7-Do they share our religious beliefs and social ethics? Yes? No? Why?

Those are the subjects which constitute the core of this book.

Believe it or not, the spiritual (Quasi-religious) aspect and meta-physical world of aliens were discussed at one time during two meetings we had with aliens, somewhere in the United States. It did happen, and I wish I could convince the skeptics and debunkers, but even if I could, it would not change an inch from the landscape of their skepticism, denial and ridicule. C'est la vie!

Needless to say, our military and our military scientists were not interested in that "etheric-moral" aspect of aliens. Their interest rotated exclusively around alien technology, and how it could be used as weapons systems, and a tool to dominate the world. This was then, and still is la soupe du jour. Nevertheless, the few anthropologists, sociologists, linguists and clergymen who were asked to attend the first official meeting with aliens on a military base in the United States were extremely interested in the meta-physical and spiritual world of aliens. And I will reproduce in this book their questions, their dialogues with aliens and the aliens' answers.

It would take the world's communities decades before the question of aliens' spirituality could be re-addressed and seriously re-examined.

It is acknowledged that a considerable number of authors and those who believe in flying saucers and in our "Aliens-Brothers from Heaven" wrote books and papers on the celestial, divine and spiritual message and aspect of aliens, but unfortunately, the majority of their work appeared to be New Age, New Religion, New Guru-ism literature, despite their sincere efforts to shed bright light on the topic.

Yes, they failed in discussing the issue, simply because they were "Outsiders", and were never part or members of the very exclusive inner circle which monopolized the entirety of knowledge and discovery of the mind-bending world of aliens.

The Church knows a lot!

The Catholic Church (Eastern and Roman) knows a lot about the aliens' revelations pertaining to the origin of man, God's nature, and the human soul. But the "Princes of the Church" are not talking for obvious reasons. I will attempt to elucidate those reasons via the direct answers of the aliens we met with in 1947 and 1948.

My chat with Cardinal Bertoli.

In the late sixties I discussed some of those subjects with Cardinal Meouchi, Patriarch of the Maronite Church, and Monsignor Jean Maroun. And once again in the seventies, I had a chat with Cardinal Bertoli, then Nuncio of the Vatican.

My chat with Cardinal Bertoli.

-Your eminence, have you read the "Aliens Transcripts"?

-Cardinal: What do you mean?

-The transcripts of the meetings of the Americans with the aliens in 1947 and 1948?

-Cardinal (Smiling): Yes.

-What is the position of the Church vis-à-vis the aliens' revelations?

-Cardinal: God created our world and many worlds to be discovered.

-You mean we are not alone in the universe.

-Cardinal: I mean we are not alone in the universe.

-Where did you read about the "Aliens Transcripts"?

-Cardinal: In Rome.

-You mean at the library of the Vatican?

-You can say that…of course not the public library.

-You mean there is a library or perhaps a section in the Vatican's library which contains the transcripts and….is not accessible to the public?

-Cardinal: Correct.

-Which part or parts from the transcripts interested you most?

-Cardinal: Many in fact…per esempio Jesus, the question of the human salvation, the creation of the human race and he universe, life after death, the immortality of the soul, the Holy Church…

-According to the aliens, the human race was not created by God.

-Cardinal: Never question your faith.

Never doubt the Holy Church.

I careless about what the aliens said.

-One final question your eminence and I will keep my mouth shut. The aliens told the Americans that Jesus Christ was not a Jew nor the Messiah but a Phoenician healer born in an area located between Sidon (Saida) and Tyre (Sour) in ancient Phoenicia…

(Interrupted by the cardinal, who began to show a very visible anger.)

-Cardinal: Blasphemy! Finish…end of the discussion…basta cosi!

Note: I honestly believe that the answers of his eminence are self-explanatory.

Archivum Secretum Apostolicum Vaticanum (The Secret Archives of the Vatican):

In addition to historical records, the secret archives of the Vatican contain 236 reports and 87 in-depth articles/texts pertaining to aliens and extraterrestrial life, written in Latin and in Italian, as well as 7 dossiers written in Italian and in English on the “Aliens Transcripts” of 1947 and 1948.

These secret archives on aliens and the American “Aliens Transcripts” are not available to researchers and/or to the general public.

Only 8 persons have/had access to the secret archives of aliens and the American Aliens Transcripts:

1-The Pope.

2-Bishop Sergio Pagano, the Prefect of the archives.

3-Cardinal Raffaele Farina, the chief Librarian.

4-Archbishop Martino, a Prefect Emeritus of the Archives.

5-Cardinal Jorge Maria Mejia.

6-Cardinal Luigi Poggi, former head of the secret archives.

7-Cardinal Eugène Tisserant, former Dean of the College of Cardinals.

8-Cardinal Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, the successor of Cardinal Tisserant.

The Secret files of the Eastern Maronite Church. The Al Kaslik Monastery Papers:

Maronite priest, Father Hanna Saloum told me verbatim that President Kennedy asked the Patriarch Paul Boutros Meouchi about the "Al Kaslik Monastery Papers", which contained earth-shattering information pertaining to extraterrestrials, and especially the revelations of an alien race concerning Jesus Christ.

Father Saloum added "President Kennedy was just curious and the Patriarch told him a little bit about the subject, but he made a reference to a Syriac document and to an Arabic scroll which mentioned the presence of an alien race which interacted with people from the Levant."

He continued "I am fully aware that the Al Kaslik Monastery has a translated a copy of the original records of a meeting of aliens with the Americans, where American bishops addressed the issues of Jesus Christ, Christianity and other religious matters during meetings with aliens in America."

Eusebius Bishop of Cæsarea:

Centuries before the Aliens Transcripts revealed to the modern world a certain link of the human race to aliens or to beings from planets beyond our solar system, the Church in the Near East and the Middle East and some of the early doctors and fathers of the Eastern/Orthodox Church had in their possessions scrolls which contained references made to two extremely important documents:

Document #1: Different human races not acknowledged or “recorded” in traditional history roamed the Earth.

According to these scrolls, some 300,000 years before the creation of the cities of “The Women of Lights,” forty-six different races of humans and quasi-humans populated the Earth.

The greatest number of these creatures was found in Africa, Madagascar, Indonesia, Brazil, and Australia. These races died out not because of famine, ecological catastrophes, or acts of war, but because of the disintegration of the very molecules and composition of their cells.

The scrolls revealed that some of these species were not created by God, and the Anunnaki, the gods and goddesses of Mesopotamia created the “final form” of human beings by “upgrading” some of those archaic quasi-human creatures.

Document #2: A scroll written in an early form of Aramaic contained a passage which referred to the area located between Sidon and Tyre in Phoenicia as the birth place of Jesus Christ.

It also contained a paragraph which ascertained that Jesus Christ was not a Jew but a Roman-Phoenician citizen.

Coincidentally, or perhaps astonishingly, the alien we met in 1947 told us that Jesus Christ was in fact a Phoenician healer, and not a Jew.

And Eusebius, the Bishop of Cæsarea in Palestine, had genealogical records of the remnants of the Anunnaki who became Syriac, and a disputed Phoenician genealogy of Jesus Christ.

Eusebius, the Bishop of Cæsarea.

At the Council of Antioch in 363 A.D., Bishop Eusebius in his "Theophania" intended to bring these subjects to the attention of the members of the Council. Unfortunately, no additional information or related documents about what has happened at the Council were found.

Zachariah of Mitylene:

Zachariah of Mitylene

In the Syriac (Syriani) manuscripts of Zachariah of Mitylene, who frequently corresponded with Eupraxius, two of his letters which made reference to the Phoenician ethnic origin of Jesus Christ and to the Anunnaki as the ancestors of the Ashurian-Syriac people were found. Bishop Proterius tried to destroy these letters.

Fortunately, two separate hand-written copies of said letters were made, as the tradition of the era dictated, and were saved in the vault of a scribe.

Those letters resurfaced in 1957 in the personal acquisition of Cardinal Meouchi, the Patriarch of the Maronite Church in Lebanon. After Meouchi's death, those letters were kept in the secret vaults of Al-Kaslik Monastery in Lebanon.

Bishop Ignatius (Ignace) Ziade:

Father Hanna Saloum, a protégé of the powerful Ignatius (Ignace) Ziade, the Maronite Archbishop of Beirut, let me know that Archbishop Ziade has told him that the scrolls and letters which mentioned the genealogy of Jesus Christ as Phoenician, and recorded his “straight” bloodline were first discovered in Jerusalem by Les Templiers (Knights Templar), and became the most precious possession of Jacques de Molay the grand master of the Templars Order.

It clearly appears that the alien, Archbishop Ziade, Bishop Eusebius, Zachariah of Mitylene, and Cardinal Meouchi were on the same page.

Aliens and “Supreme Beings” in Middle Eastern Christian legends.

The notion or idea of aliens or “Supreme Beings” from heaven was widely discussed in ancient Christian scriptures in the Near East.

The early Muslim Arabs believed that the legendary city of Baalbeck was rebuilt by Nimrod, who once ruled this area of Phoenicia (Modern day Lebanon.)

The Trilithon of Baalbeck.

The base of the Temple of Jupiter is called the Trilithon, and it is constructed of three 1200-tonne limestone megalithic stones.

One of the "Legendary columns" of Baalbek.

According to an ancient Arabic manuscript found at Baalbeck, Nimrod sent a fleet of giants to rebuild Baalbeck, three months after the Flood. Another Arab myth tells us that Nimrod rebelled against his God and decided to build the Tower of Babel at Baalbeck.

According to a third legend, Cain, the son of Adam, built Baalbeck as his last refuge after his God Yahweh put a curse on him.

Estfan Doweihi, the Maronite Patriarch of Lebanon.

Patriarch Estfan Doweihi:

According to his Eminence Estfan Doweihi, the Maronite Patriarch of Lebanon: “Tradition states that the fortress of Baalbeck is the most ancient building on Earth. Cain, the son of Adam, with the help of “Supreme Beings” (To other aliens) built it in the year 133 of the creation.

He named it after his son Enoch, and populated it with Amalika (giants) who were punished by God for their sins…So God sent the flood to punish them…”

During the Carolingian Renaissance; Archbishop Agobard of Lyon:

In a 9th century manuscript written in Latin, “Liber contra insulam vulgi opinionem”, Agobard the Archbishop of the French city of Lyon, during the Carolingian Renaissance, discussed a popular belief in a region called Magonia, from which alien spaceships flew into the clouds, and were flown by pilots called “storms’ wizards”.

Apparently, French peasants believed that celestial crafts were flown by people who carried stolen vegetables and fruits from their harvest and were taken away to their land. Legend has it that three men and woman fell from the ships and were stoned to death by the peasants. Writers of the era believed that Magonia was the land of black magic inhabited by aliens and beings from another world.

Spaceships of Magonia.

In modern times: A possible alien UFO taken for a miracle.

B.V.M. (Virgin Mary’s apparition in Fatima and the UFO allegory)

But confusing alien UFOs' sightings with so-called "Divine Apparitions", "Celestial Lights", and messages from saints also occur, and are vividly debated.

Do aliens disguise themselves like saints?

Do aliens appear to some in the form of orbs?

Do aliens, UFOs, or other ethereal apparitions convey messages to humanity?

Although, the B.V.M. is remotely linked to aliens who talked to us about Jesus Christ, I still believe it is quite a propos to discuss this extraordinary apparition, for it strengthens the link and association of aliens-UFOs to and with religious imageries, religious beliefs, and the place and role of aliens and alien spaceships on the landscape of faith, and in the lore of religious beliefs.

B.V.M. is an acronym for the Blessed Virgin Mary, referred to in the context of Virgin Mary's apparitions as animated entities, like a CE3. The apparitions of the Virgin Mary to three children, Lucia, Francisco, and Jacinta took place in Fatima, Portugal in 1917.

Lucia, Francisco, and Jacinta.

Numerous New Age followers, and spiritualists believe that the “Divine Apparitions of Virgin Mary” are closely related to UFOs on a metaphysical/religious level.

Of course the Catholic Church has refused this “religious assumption”.

On September 13, 1917, Monsignor J. Quaresma described the apparition as an aerial globe. He stated verbatim, “To my surprise, I see clearly and distinctly a globe of light advancing from east to west, gliding slowly and majestically through the air.”

It was exactly and precisely this “globe of light” which led ufology’s enthusiasts to conclude that the globe was in deed a UFO.

Dr. Joseph Garret, professor of natural sciences at Columbia University said, “The globe (Sun’s disc) did not remain immobile. This was not the sparkling of a celestial body.

The disc spun on itself in a mad whirl, when suddenly a clamor was heard from all the people.”

In 1960, Reverend Joaquim Lourenco, a theologian and a canon lawyer of the diocese of Leira said, “I feel incapable of describing what I saw.

I looked fixedly at the sun which seemed pale and did not hurt my eyes, maybe it did not look like the sun because it wasn’t the sun…it was an alien UFO.”

Chapter I

Censorship and Cover-up

Chapter I

Censorship and Cover-up

The government's cover-up:

At one point in time, Truman, Eisenhower and George Bush Sr. were vividly interested in the role the aliens could/would play in shaping new ideology, the creation of new cults, the interpretation and understanding of the nature of God, and the impact of the aliens/extraterrestrials' revelations upon organized religions, the Bible, and particularly the social order of our communities and religious beliefs as clearly outlined by aliens during the meetings we had with them in 1947 and 1948.

President Truman.

Truman, Eisenhower and George Bush, Sr. are considered to be the most knowledgeable presidents on matters related to aliens, the Grays (Greys) in particular, and UFOs.

There is quite a few top secret Presidential memoranda signed by President Harry Truman, President Dwight Eisenhower and President Richard Nixon, which gave full authority to an intelligence agency to disseminate false information about aliens and UFOs in order to confuse and disorient the Soviet Union. And in a separate set of verbal communiqués and instructions by President Harry Truman and President Dwight Eisenhower, our presidents made it clear to the Pentagon and to our intelligence agencies to never "say a word" or mention anything about the aliens' revelations regarding organized religions, Christianity, and God.

In one of President Truman's memoranda, a reference was made to the aliens' influence and total control over strategic military points that could cause embarrassment to the United States Air Force, Navy and Army, and the "chaos and mass hysteria" which could be caused by what we have learned from the aliens about the origin of the human race, the human soul, and the false teachings of religions.

Presidents Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower ordered that these subjects in general and the aliens' revelations in particular should NEVER be made public, and shared with any American institution.

Although President Harry Truman gave full authority to an intelligence agency to take care of the aliens' business, secretly he created his own committee to oversee what the agency was doing, and how the clergy is coping with the Aliens-Earth's Religions question. Reverend Billy Graham was constantly consulted on this matter.

It is very ironic, because in a previous memo, and during a verbal communication with the director of the agency, President Truman made it clear that he is NOT interested in reading the reports and findings of the agency on UFOs and aliens he called "Space Monkeys."

In fact, it is not so ironic, if you know a little bit about the character of President Truman.

He did it and said it on purpose, so he would and could legally and "honestly" deny any knowledge of the aliens, UFOs, and their "revolutionary impact" on our religions.

He did so in order to protect the "integrity of the office of the President of the United States."

Later on, it was found out that President Truman's intention was much much broader.

President Truman wanted to set the foundation of isolating any politician, any senator, any congressman, including future presidents and the American public from knowing anything about UFOs and aliens.

The man did not trust anybody! His last communications with the director of the agency would occur exclusively in the Oval Office, and only Marshall was allowed to be present. Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal was barred from all meetings. Forrestal was “quarantined” on the 16th floor suite of the Bethesda Naval Hospital for psychiatric evaluation and intensive “mental” care.

On May 22, 1949, the ousted Forrestal committed suicide at the Bethesda Naval Hospital, Maryland, USA.

Report on his death as issued by the hospital stated that he jumped from a window in the 16th floor hall. A very close associate of his, said they killed him! The Secretary was taken by force to Bethesda Naval Hospital, on order from President Truman.

And around the clock, 4 MP were guarding his room.

A polite way to say, he was under a constant watch, not for his own safety, but to make sure that what was “planned” will be carried out without interference and suspicion.

Many observers believed that Forrestal was the first official victim of UFOs/Aliens cover-up. However, insiders could not keep their mouth shot, frustrated, they spread the rumors that hired operatives from and intelligence agency with the help of hitmen killed Secretary James V. Forrestal and threw him out from a window at the 16th floor at Bethesda Naval Hospital in Maryland.

President Truman with Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal, the first victim of Aliens-UFOs' cover-up and conspiracy.

President Harry Truman with members of the National Defense Research Committee: Roger Adams, Vannevar Bush, standing, third from left, K. T. Compton, James Bryant Conant, Alphonse Raymond, Albert Baird, Jerome Clarke, Frank B. Jewett, Alfred Newton, Lewis Hill, January 20, 1947…almost all of them were active participants in a major coverup.

Yes, President Truman did not trust anybody, except his National Defense Research Committee which strongly and unconditionally promised him an absolute loyalty.

It was never the intention of the CIA to mislead the general public on matters and issues related to alien technology, the UFO phenomena, and other pertinent subjects. Misleading was NOT the CIA objective. The CIA quite rightfully and legally withheld delicate information on these subjects because revealing such information and declassifying very sensitive files would absolutely jeopardize national security, the safety, and sanity of the American people, as well as many people around the globe.

It was not the CIA which decided to keep the UFO question an Above Top Secret matter, but two powerful (Former) Presidents, and an extremely influential committee/panel consisting of Archbishops, the nations' leading scientists, and commanding generals from the army and the air force.

General Hoyt S. Vandenberg

General Hoyt S. Vandenberg's intimidation and cover-up:

One of the master-minds of aliens' saga-coverup was General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, a hero in his own right, who was considered to be one of the most feared and powerful generals in American history. Probably, the General was right in preventing the public from having access to the aliens' revelations and messages, taking into consideration that UFOs were a "military secret", and revealing what the aliens told us about our religions and religious beliefs will unquestionably shatter the very foundation of Christianity. I totally agree with him.

However, I totally disagree with General Vandenberg's tactics to deceive and even to intimidate all those (military, high ranking officers, scientists) who were assigned the duties to investigate German military technology and report on UFOs and distort the truth! In my opinion, he was the architect par excellence of the most elaborate UFOs' cover-ups in military history.

Here is a brief synopsis of what he did.

In April 1948, intensive investigations and assessment of German UFOs, as well as recent UFOs' sightings reports were sent to General Vandenberg, for in that year, the General was in charge of everything related to UFOs.

The reports included very clear photos of UFOs, new testimonies by German scientists, and witnesses' accounts (Pilots and military-men who saw the UFOs).

The General refused the reports and commented that the UFOs' sightings and the witnesses' accounts should not be taken seriously for lack of evidence.

In other words, he categorically rejected everything!

Why the General did not believe his own people?

And why did he discredit the professional assessment of military experts?

But did he? No, the General believed every word in the reports, but he wanted to crash all sorts of stories about UFOs, and communications with aliens.

The general silenced witnesses, and discouraged anybody from reporting on such delicate matters, including his own men.

Furthermore, he instructed his people to describe the UFOs' sightings as hoaxes, to discredit and ridicule all those who came forward and reported UFOs' sightings. In addition, he threatened captains, majors and colonels who pursued and authenticated UFOs sightings and credible reports, and he let them know that they will be court-martialed if they revealed anything pertaining to UFOs and extraterrestrials.

The church was an active participant of a major cover-up.

American Catholic archbishops and evangelist preacher Billy Graham attended meetings between the United States and aliens on an American soil.

The two very influential American Catholic Archbishops were instrumental in shaping the non-disclosure policies about the UFO's crash near Roswell, the dissemination of information about the existence of extraterrestrials, and religious dogmas which were ridiculed by the aliens.

Both were Archbishops of New York.

1-Francis Joseph Cardinal Spellman

2-Terence James Cardinal Cooke.

Cardinal Spellman

Cardinal Cooke

Reverend Billy Graham.

He was a spiritual adviser to President Dwight Eisenhower, and President Lyndon Johnson.

The Pope, Catholic bishops in America, leading rabbis in the US and Israel, and a legendary Evangelist were briefed.

Reverend Billy Graham was officially consulted by two American Presidents on extraterrestrials' affairs.

Billy Graham shared the opinions of the Catholic prelates and recommended that the aliens' question should not be discussed publicly, and any pertinent information should be handled in utmost secrecy, fearing public's mass hysteria, and the disintegration/collapse of our religious beliefs, which would unquestionably shatter our social order, and the very fabric of our religious beliefs. For once Evangelists, Baptists and Catholics agreed unanimously on something.

An unauthorized copy of the Aliens Transcripts was sent to Pope Pius XII, influential rabbis, Abba Eban (Member of the American Academy of Sciences. Israel's Deputy Prime Minister, Minister of Education and Culture, Minister of Foreign Affairs) and to David Ben Gurion (First Prime Minister of Israel). Dag Hammarskjöld's (UN Secretary-General 1953-61) request for a copy of the AT was turned down by The White House and the military.

A few weeks following the first meeting with aliens, rumors about "internal leaks" began to circulate, and insiders learned that few unauthorized copies of the meetings' transcripts were sent to Abba Eban, Pope Pius XII and a German community in Argentina and Brazil.

It was alleged that an influential Catholic archbishop from the United States supplied the Vatican with one set of the transcripts, and Jewish scientists who previously worked at Los Alamos and were present at the meeting, sent another set to Ben Gourion.

I have no “physical” proofs on hand to substantiate these claims and rumors. But one thing I am absolutely sure of; The Library of the Vatican in Rome, and the archives of the Observatory of the Vatican have an extensive library on extraterrestrials and their visits to Earth, the US meeting with aliens on numerous occasions, the Aliens-Earth’s Organized religions equation, and the true nature of God.

Chapter II

Our meetings with the aliens.

Chapter II

Our meetings with the aliens.

Aliens' personal messages and telepathic contacts/ communications.

Many experiencers and so-called contactees have claimed that they were contacted by extraterrestrials and received personal message to be delivered to humanity.

Frankly, I don't believe it.

Aliens and intraterrestrials do not give individuals, and so-called contactees and abductees, personal messages to be delivered to humanity.

Aliens (Extraterrestrials and intraterrestrials) rarely talk to abductees, almost never; no reason to.

In some rare instances, they express "something" by slowly and gradually raising their hands or directly staring at individuals, who are usually in a state of total shock, fear, confusion, and paralysis. The telepathic communication between an alien intraterrestrial and so-called contactees and abductees is a very rare phenomenon.

It only occurs when the individual is an exceptionally alert person, who remains coherent, and does not succumb to panic and emotional disturbances, and does not fall into a state of trauma or paralysis.

The aliens transmit their messages and thoughts mentally, not telepathically, because for the telepathic phenomenon to occur, you need 2 telepathic persons; 2 well-coordinated stations:

1-Emiter/Sender (Alien)

2-Receiver (Contactee)

And most certainly, contactees who are regular folks are neither gifted nor trained telepaths.

Thus, telepathic communication is either impossible or exceptionally rare.

Worth mentioning here that communication with aliens is not ipso facto a telepathic or a mental process. According to the alien we met (At the first meeting), "To entities on other planets and multi-dimensional zones, eyes like ours are not needed" for they use different organs to see; some use skins pores, others cells in the brain.

And their brain (Cellular Motor) is not necessary located inside a skull; it could be found anywhere under the skin, or on the surface, even stored in a collective awareness.

As such, the Cellular Motor's transmission of thoughts and signs to humans is indecipherable by us.

Everything we knew about aliens and extraterrestrials, including intraterrestrials, Greys (Grays) and humanoids, their bio-organic structure, physical attributes, ways of communications, their worlds/dimensions, and habitats came directly from meetings we had with them since 1947.

De facto, we had numerous meetings with them in the United States and abroad.

The most significant ones occurred in 1947 and 1948. It was an eye-opener.

Characteristic "features" of our first communication with an alien in 1947:

Communication via a device.

Throughout the entire meeting which occurred in 1947, the alien was not communicating with us verbally; no sound was heard from her.

Her communication was directly transmitted from her brain (cellular motor) to the device she gave us.

The alien's device would receive her thoughts and answer in colors, images, frequencies, and dots similar to the Morse code. At the far end of the machine, there was a screen which displayed dots, multiple dots, empty spaces, and slashes and deciphered the letters and forms. After the transmission has been displayed on the screen, the machine would talk to us in a most unusual English vocabulary.

For example, the alien never said that she has a body, instead she said she had an "Essence." It took the military quite a while to re-interpret her expressions and terms into a proper English. And, quite often, they missed the point.

A major part of her mind's transmission was lost in the translation.

Later on, the military decided firmly that top notch linguists in the country should be present at all meetings with the aliens, hopefully to help translate and interpret the alien languages and expressions correctly.

Weeks later, I discovered that this was absolutely true because the alien's device contained a limited amount of English vocabulary.

And the words used mentally by the alien, technologically transmitted and displayed by the machine were those often used by the military in their daily life- normal everyday slang. It was very obvious to me, that all her answers were not given to us with technological and scientific terms.

At one point the female alien told us she avoided that on purpose.

In the first two meetings, 2 complicated and complex tools/ machines were used by the aliens to talk to us.

The aliens carried with them a special device in a circular metallic box (Voice-box, also called VB); they had two different kinds of boxes they used in communicating with us. However, in meetings to follow, the aliens began to speak to us in English.

In the second meeting, the aliens gave us the Translation Signals Box (TSB), which allowed us to respond to their communications and messages.

Later on, the TCB (Transmission Channel Box), originally "Channel of the transmissions frequency of aliens" was used. Contrary to a general belief, the aliens did not talk to us telepathically. On their device, they had the recordings of all the languages and dialects of Earth, including versions of their own languages.

However, they have never communicated with us using their own languages, for the device they used to communicate with us was especially designed to use Earth's languages.

A pre-scheduled meeting:

The first meeting with aliens was a pre-scheduled and an agreed upon event. The aliens told us where and when they will meet with us, and the military agreed.

According to notes from the Aliens Transcripts (AT), Section 9: Addendum 12-Briefing 341-E1, 1947, this first meeting was arranged by an alien who was in the custody of the United States Air Force.

At the bottom of the page, there is an arrow and a reference made to a certain "Lt. Colonel S…" who coordinated the meeting. On the next page, top left, one could read the following: "No outfits", which means that those who waited for the arrival of the aliens did not wear any particular suits or protective suits.

The alien who arranged the first meeting:

The alien who arranged the first meeting between our government and the aliens remained at a military base for approximately 3 months and 4 days, and later died.

Her body was sent to a military hospital in Maryland.

The alien was captured after her spacecraft crashed, for missing to "jump" into the time-space pocket, needed to enter and exit a physical dimension. The three other aliens died on impact. The one who survived was a female alien-hybrid, although no genital organs were visible.

Generalities:

Representatives from our government' agencies (Military and civilian) met several times with aliens, intraterrestrials and extraterrestrials in many places, on military bases in the United States.

High echelon/top brass in the military (Army, Navy, Air Force), the nations' very best scientists, codes decipherers and breakers, and linguists working for governments and semi-official organizations attended those meetings.

In the two first meetings, two members of the clergy (Catholic Bishops) and a very prominent preacher were present.

Numerous briefings of rapports with aliens and aliens' transcripts are well preserved in secret vaults.

Worth mentioning here that the United States government met with different aliens races on many occasions.

And the spectrum of the discussions is ad infinitum.

In the original and first report on an alien, which also contained "medical observations", it was noted that the surviving alien has no gender. Later on, in a communiqué sent to the Pentagon, the surviving alien's gender was acknowledged as a male; however, no genital organs were visible.

The story is getting more complicated, since rumors start to circulate that the alien was a female indeed, because herself told them about her gender in the first historical meeting.

I tend to believe that the surviving alien was de facto a female; a hybrid-female, not totally Grey.

Who were present at the first meetings?

- A major general.
- 2 Colonels.
- 1 Lt. Colonel.
- Military men.
- 2 civilians representing The White House.
- 4 scientists.
- 2 photographers.
- 2 psychics.

- 2 code breakers.
- 2 linguists.
- Intelligence and national security agents.
- Test pilots.
- Propulsion system experts and engineers.
- Pathologists.
- Astrophysicists.
- Futurists.
- Physicians.
- Psychologists.
- Psychiatrists.
- Nuclear physicists.
- A catholic bishop.

Note: This constitutes the general assembly in the initial meeting. Many attendees were removed by the military from forthcoming meetings with aliens.

Who were present at the second meetings?

- A brigadier General.
- A Lt. Colonel.
- A languages' expert.
- Four scientists.
- Two physicians (Pathologist, and neurologist).
- A cameraman (A camera operator).
- An assistant cameraman.
- A typist.
- A military personnel in charge of recording the meeting.
- Three agents from various intelligence agencies.
- An unidentified observer (A strange looking man).
- A very important code breaker from England.
- A psychologist.
- A prominent linguist from Washington, DC.
- A university professor from Berkeley.
- Three agents from intelligence agencies (They never missed one single meeting).

- A military man operating a speaking/communication device.
- A military man operating a recording device.
- A military technician handling projectors.
- A military RN (She was present at two meetings. Never to be seen again).
- A highly decorated military pilot.
- A civilian scientist expert in mineralogy.
- (He was removed later).
- Two unidentified persons. (They never said a word).
- An unidentified person, possibly from India or Burma I am not sure. He attended two meetings.
- A linguist.
- Two MPs inside the room (All the time).
- A catholic bishop.
- An evangelical preacher.
- 2 civilians representing The White House.

Outside the room:

You could see 4 MPs outside the room, nearby the door, and two additional MPs in the corridor.

Copies of the reports and transcripts of the meetings:

- Transcripts were sent in duplicate copies to The White House on Monday 9, February 1948.
- A synopsis of the transcripts (Heavily censored) sent to Dr. … on Thursday 26, February 1948.
- A Top Secret Presidential Memorandum (Order) was issued on: Wednesday 18, February 1948.
- A follow-up report was written and sent to The White House by Dr. von Braun and Dr. Teller on Thursday 26, February 1948.

Who reviewed the transcripts of the meetings?

Names of some scientists, military men and others who reviewed the Alien-

Meeting Transcripts and commented upon, (To name a few):

- General Kenney. Commander of the United States Strategic Air Forces.
- Kenneth C. Royall. Special Assistant to the Secretary of War, 1945. Under Secretary of War, 1945-1947. Secretary of War, 1947. Secretary of the Army, 1947-1949.
- Dr. Peter Goldmark (Péter Károly Goldmark). Scientist, inventor, and recipient of the National Medal of Science, awarded by President Carter.
- General Curtis LeMay, Commander-in-Chief of the Strategic Air Command, from1948 to1957, and Vice Chief of Staff, U.S. Air Force, from 1957 to 1961.
- Major General Clements McMullen, Commanding General of the San Antonio Air Materiel Area, Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.
- Major General St. Clair Streett, special assistant to the Commanding General, Air Materiel Command.
- John Bardeen. Physicist and inventor of the Transistor. He won twice the Noble Prize in Physics.
- Mr. Warren R. Austin.
- Secretary of Defense Forrestal.
- Dr. W. Albert Noyes, President of the American Chemical Society.
- Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H Bomb.
- Dr. von Braun.
- Dr. Enrico Fermi, winner of the Nobel Prize in physics. In 1938, Dr. Fermi was the world’s greatest expert on neutrons.
- Dr. Vannevar Bush. Vice-president and dean at MIT in 1932. President of Carnegie Institute in 1939. Chairman of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. President Roosevelt appointed him Chairman of the National Defense Resource Committee (NDRC). FDR's senior military research advisor.
- General Nathan F. Twining, United States Air Force Chief of Staff.
- Lt. General Arthur Gilbert Trudeau, Chief of the Army's Research and Development Command.

- Rear Admiral Roscoe H. Hillenkoetter, the first CIA Director, Director of the Central Intelligence Group, Member of the board of governors of the National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena, etc.
- President George Bush, Sr.
- A scientist from the Kelley-Koet Manufacturing Company, located in Kentucky.
- Dr. Hermann Oberth.
- Dr. Dennis Gabor.
- Major General John Barclay.
- General Hoyt S. Vandenberg.
- Allen Welsh Dulles, Deputy Director of the CIA.
- General Roger Maxwell Ramey.
- General John Samford.
- Walter Bedell Smith. Former Director of the CIA.

General Trudeau, the father of the reverse engineering of alien technology program.

Dr. Hermann Oberth

The foremost authority on rocketry outside the United States was Dr. Hermann Oberth, a Hungarian-born German. In 1923, he published a book about rocket travel into outer space. Because of his important writings, many small rocket societies sprang up around the world. In the spring of 1930, a young Wernher von Braun assisted Oberth in his early experiments in testing a liquid-fueled rocket with about 15 pounds of thrust. Photo & text credit: NASA.

Dr. Hermann Oberth had access to the “Aliens Transcripts”. He stated: “We cannot take credit for our record advancement in certain scientific fields alone; we have been helped “people of other worlds.”

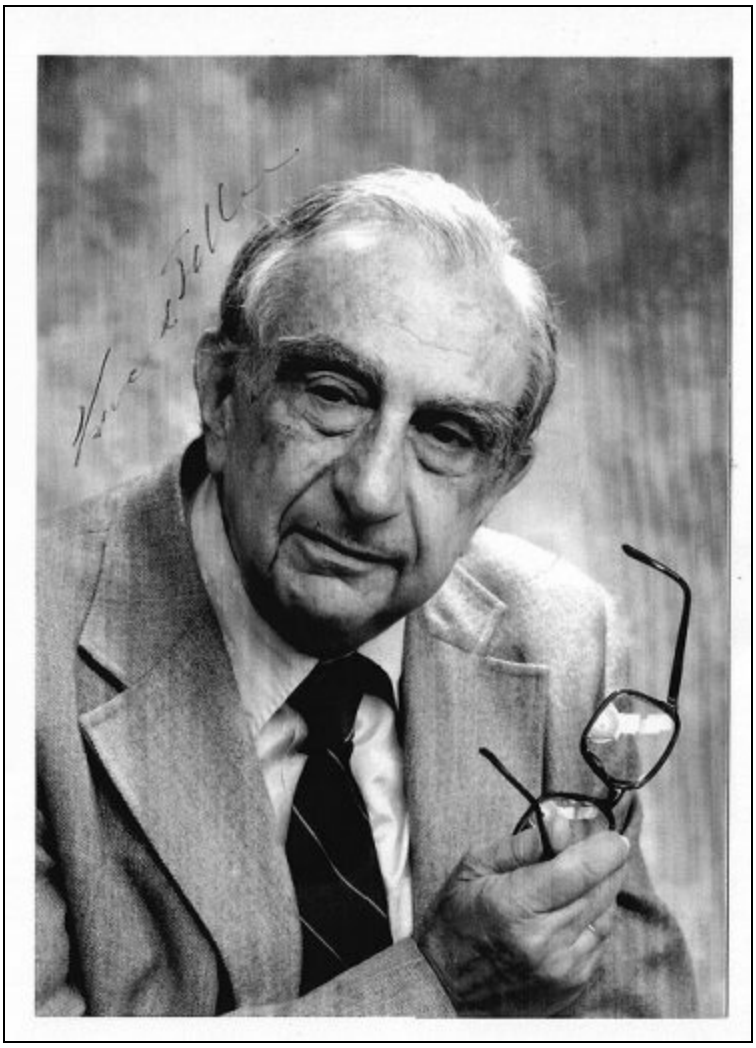
Dr. Enrico Fermi (left) at Los Alamo.

Dr. Fermi publicly ridiculed the UFO phenomenon, yet secret reports, and the "1947-1948 Aliens Transcripts" clearly show that he attended two meetings with aliens in a secret United States military base. Dr. Edward Teller and Dr. von Braun were present at the meetings.

Dr. von Braun

He was directly involved in the recovery of a crashed alien spacecraft (UFO; crescent shape) and alien reverse engineering from 1947 to 1949.



Dr. Ed Teller.

Dr. Teller submitted a detailed report on UFO and alien reverse engineering to Presidents Truman and Reagan.

Dr. Dennis Gabor.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, on June 5, 1900, and died on February 8, 1979. He was a major scientific link between the aliens and Earth's technology. In 1972, he admitted that he had much unfinished technological work on his hands, and part of it was closely related to alien reverse-engineering.

Former President George Bush Sr. was and still is one of the world's most knowledgeable persons on the subjects of extraterrestrials. President Bush was the Director of Central Intelligence and head of the Central Intelligence Agency from 30 January 1976 to 20 January 1977.

While serving as Director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), President Bush gathered and reviewed the world most detailed and documented reports and findings on aliens' spacecrafts, their technology, and extraterrestrials, including their interactions with human beings, and how their revelations could "tragically" affect and/or shatter our religious beliefs.

Chapter III

Mind-blowing information received from the aliens.

Chapter III

Mind-blowing information received from the aliens.

For the record:

The 1948 meetings' dates:

The meetings were spread over a period of 4 days:

Date of the first meeting: Monday, 2, February 1948. 9:00 AM.

Date of the second meeting: Tuesday 3, February 1948. 9:00 AM.

Date of the third meeting: Thursday 5, February 1948. 9:00 AM.

Date of the fourth meeting: Saturday 7, February 1948. 9:00 AM.

Generalities:

In addition to the military brass, psychiatrists, neurologists and teams of scientists who questioned the aliens, few anthropologists, linguists, and historians were allowed to attend some meetings, and ask the aliens questions about our religions, God, the Bible, Jesus, the history of human civilization, and various early humans settlements in different parts of the world.

I found their interest in these subjects very refreshing, since they explored the very core and very foundation of our history's birth, civilization and development.

A professor from Harvard asked the aliens about the first human settlement on Earth, and our ancestors' use of early tools. Another professor from Yale asked about the early form of human communities in Africa and the Middle East.

A distinguished scholar from Princeton asked about the veracity of historical texts carved on clay tablets and slabs.

A university professor from Pennsylvania asked about the first established (systematic/organized) human community in Mesopotamia.

The aliens told us a lot about our religions, God, our origin, the customs, habits and way of life of the earliest organized human communities.

For instance, the aliens told us that our history did not start in Mesopotamia but in Turkey; they meant a well-civilized human community, but they made it clear to us that the first human settlement that can be described as a “a human cell or community” started some 120,000 years ago, in pre-history, during the Middle Palaeolithic Period in Barda Balka and Hazar Merd in ancient Iraq.

A regional flood in the Middle East wiped them out and decimated their habitats. Then the alien continued to tell us that during the Upper Paleolithic Period, some 35,000 ago, another human civilization came to life in Zarzi, Palegawra and other regions of Northern Iraq, particularly in the upper region of Kurdistan Zagros Mountains.

Concurrently, highly advanced communities flourished in Phoenicia and the northern part of Anatolia.

Asking the aliens whether extraterrestrials had any influence in speeding up the process of human evolution, languages and intelligence, and the aliens said, yes, but only in some parts of Earth.

The aliens told us for instance that the early humans did not look human at all.

Some walked on three legs, others on four legs like animals; they could not talk, they could not reason, and they could not understand their environment, but had an enormous physical strength, endurance, and could see things very far away, and hear better than many of the animals of their time. Their eyes were their primordial and principle tool of communication with each other, with animals and with nature.

A highly advanced galactic race from Ashta.Ri Constellation System (Aldebaran) came to Earth and upgraded existing human-animal species they captured in Central Africa and the Amazon area in Brazil.

Early humans or pre-historic humans-animals’ species were not aware that other species like them lived in different part of Earth.

And contrary to our general belief they did not migrate from one continent to another, told us the aliens. Some of the early human species were not very much different from the Modern Man, only those who lived in Central Africa, Brazil, South-East Asia were very different from other quasi-human species because they were not totally humans.

Our early (Earliest is more accurate) ancestors who lived in Mesopotamia during the Pre-Historic Paleolithic Period looked very different from those who lived in Africa and Brazil and surrounding areas. Numerous human and quasi-human forms, species and life-forms existed and co-existed on Earth.

Only those who were genetically upgraded or “modified” by extraterrestrials survived, developed and influenced the course of history and human civilizations.

The aliens referred to the early inhabitants of Turkey-Anatolia, Phoenicia, and Mesopotamia, modern day Iraq. They did not even mention the early Egyptians.

Thus, the Theory “Out-of-Africa” is wrong

Excerpts from vital information and instructions we received from the aliens in 1947 and 1948.

Some information and instructions are verbatim, and few are herewith reproduced with minor editing and revision based upon compared notes and translation by military scientists, civilian linguists, and personnel who operated the aliens' communication devices.

Note: Additional material and commentaries pertaining to the alien's information and revelations (Scientific and metaphysical) are provided in numerous books I wrote on the subject in the past.

Our governments have extensive files on aliens.

The files and dossiers encompass everything the aliens told us about any and all aspects and facets of humanity, our origin, our history, how religions were created, how the concept of God was invented, Jesus Christ and his disciples, early Christianity, Judaism, the future of the human race, futuristic science, you name it.

The importance of ufology should not rotate exclusively around UFOs and exotic spacecrafts (Aliens or man-made); there are much more important subjects we should learn about, and focus our attention upon, such as our origin, the veracity of recorded history, and major (forgotten or missed) events in the history of humanity and planet Earth that we are not aware of, our future/destiny, the influence and impact of galactic civilizations on our culture, religious beliefs, social systems, our future and Earth's fate.

Fortunately, a great deal of information on these subjects were provided by aliens and extraterrestrials we have met with on numerous occasions.

Herewith are some mind-blowing excerpts from transcripts which have recorded the information and knowledge we got from them.

Note: Alien's answers were displayed on the "Speaking Voice", which is a communication device the alien gave us to facilitate our dialogue with them. Although the device had the possibility to translate almost 90% of what the aliens told us, a large part of the translation and interpretation was not adequately transmitted to us during the meetings.

The aliens used their Cellular Motor (Brain/mind) to transmit their thoughts, and our military scientists and creative linguists interpreted the messages to the best of their ability. Consequently, and as anticipated, a major part of the aliens' thoughts and messages was totally lost in the translation and the interpretation.

Aliens and Religion:

Aliens do not talk about spirituality and God. Contrary to a common and popular belief in ufology's circles and New Age ideology, aliens do not talk about spirituality, saints, God, Jesus and other prophets.

But it did happen a few times, when some abductees asked the aliens about God, death, after-death, heaven, hell, the final judgment, reincarnation, and the return of Jesus Christ.

Aliens are not concerned with religious spirituality, for they do not have a religion.

The alien told us that the idea of God was created when the first "quasi-intelligent" beings discovered fire.

Worth mentioning here that, also, the early humans called fire "God". Fire was the first god or supernatural power they worshipped, followed by the stars.

Q&A from the first meeting with an alien.

On God:

Did God create us?

Q: Can you explain our origin? And did God create us?

Alien: Some of you were made from cosmic fibers you call it dust (cosmic dust). Others were the product of what you call photosynthesis or biosynthesis.

And the rest were genetically reproduced and updated by a highly advanced race, not from Earth.

And your origin is more animal than human.

And at the beginning of your time on earth, some of your species, looked like reptilians, frogs, birds and other aquatic creatures.

Some of your early human species, walked on three legs, others on four. And you could not tell the difference from one specie to another because all belonged to the early form of the animalistic world or animals' world. What you call God had nothing to do with the creation of your race.

Q: So you are telling us we are animals?

Alien: The answer is already in your question.

Note: On this subject, I am herewith reproducing Anati's account, an Aldebaran-Earth hybrid, and she is referring to "B'nat Nour" (Women of the Light); the early female-form on earth.

Anati's account; B'nat Nour (Women of the Light):

Contrary to all religious beliefs, including what Judaism, Christianity and Islam taught you, Eve was not created from the rib of Adam. Men were created from an early female form that was “fertilized” by the leaders and the elite of the Aldebaran Anunnaki.

They lived in quarantined cities, and had both sons and daughters fathered by the Anunnaki.

Some of the most puzzling sites of these cities, due to their size and functionality, were in Ur, Amrit, Ougarit, Petra (Batra), Tyre and Sidon.

The Bashar (Early humans) who lived during that era called the quarantined city of these women Ur Shabha (The City of Mirage), and “Bourg or Ka’la Hasna Diaa” (The Bourg or Fortress of Beautiful Illusion,” since the most attractive women from “Ardi” or “Ertzi” (Earth) lived there. And the quasi-humans who were made out of “Turba” (Ashes, soil, earth) were not allowed to interact with these women.

Thousands of years later, the inhabitants of what is today the Arab Peninsula and the lands bordering Persia, the United Arab Emirates, and India, called these women “Nisa’ Al Nour” or “B’nat Nour” (The Women of Light), and those who were allowed to “mix with them” were called “Ba’niin Nour” (The Sons or Children of Light).

From this early human race, all humans came to life. God had nothing to do with the creation of your race.

In other words, the God we know, revere, and fear today did not create us.

Even the word or term “God” did not exist in those early stages of the existence of the human race on Earth.

Instead, the terms “Gods” or “Heavenly Masters” were used.

And thousands of years later, those terms were changed to “Giants” (Amalika), “Elohim”, “Nephilim”, “Rephaim”, “Anakim”, and even “Fallen Angels”, so on.

Each universe has its own god.

Question: Do you believe in God?

Alien: Which one?

Question: Our God!

Alien: Each Universe has its own god, which is the “Highest Essence”. God was invented by the early human beings.

I have already answered this question so many times.

You are wasting your time.

And your intentions are very clear to me.

No, I will not contradict myself.

I remember everything I have said to you in the past.

Question: Who created the universe? God?

Alien: Itself. Your God had nothing to do with the creation of the universe.

Question: Please explain.

Alien: The Universe came to exist before time and space existed.

Question: What do you mean?

Alien: There is no beginning otherwise the Universe would need a creator.

Question: Do you mean the Universe created itself?

Alien: Not exactly.

Question: Would you please clarify?

Alien: You would never understand unless you get outside time and space, as did the universe. (She meant this is how the universe came to exist from nothing).

Question: How can I do that?

Alien: In your situation and condition, you can’t.

Question: Can you?

Alien: Yes.

Question: How come?

Alien: Because I am not a physical entity.

Question: Meaning what?

Alien: I am not trapped or defined by religion, age, space, weight, or time.

Possibly by memory if needed.

Question: Memory? What kind of memory?

Alien: The one that gives me a “Frame”; the one I use when I enter a physical dimension.

Question: I don’t understand.

Alien: I already know that.

Who is keeping the Universe in order?

Archbishop: Well if you don’t believe in God then who is keeping the Universe in order, keeping it running smoothly like a watch?

Alien: This is a very wrong example because a watch needs to be re-wound from time to time. If you don’t rewind it, it will stop and you would not have the correct time.

This means that what is behind the Universe is somebody who is re-winding it constantly.

And constantly does not mean hand, eyes and a long white beard. It is the multi-dimensional energy which keeps the Universe in order. A universal energy you can’t see and you can’t understand now; this energy keeps the fabric of the Universe in place, and attached to itself. It is a dark energy the human mind can’t understand.

Note: Years later, the aliens explained to us what they meant by the “universal energy”, a “Dark Energy” that keeps the universe functioning properly and in a synchronized order, since we didn’t understand this concept in the 40’s.

When the military once again met with the aliens in the early 70’s, the aliens explained to us what they meant by the “energy of the Universe”; they called it the Dark Matter or Dark Energy.

On the Final Judgement, and reincarnation.

Question by a bishop: Do you believe in the final judgment?

Christians believe in a final judgment at the end of days.

Alien: It happens every day.

Question by an anthropologist: What do you mean?

Alien: It happens as you speak.

You are your own final judgment.

Question by an ethicist: Do you believe in reincarnation?

Alien: No. There is no reincarnation. However dead people trapped in the doomed zone (Marash Mawta) can re-appear and re-manifest themselves physically and holographically.

Question: Do you believe in hell and heaven?

Alien: You have already asked me this question.

Don't be repetitious. There is no hell and there is no heaven.

What the aliens told us about Fikr (The mind) in the afterlife:

Alien: The Fikr (The mind) as energy continues to exist via the molecular structures of Fikr in the afterlife. And the etheric and/or astral substances vary from one person to another, to name a few:

- a-Astral
- b-Etheric
- c-Holographic
- d-Mental
- f-Plasmic
- g-Ectoplasmic
- h-Orbs
- i-Imprints, so on.

On the biblical flood:

Archbishop: Do you have any record of the Flood which is mentioned in the Bible?

Alien: A huge flood did occur in antiquity (Pre-Biblical time), but it was not global and did not cover the entire Earth. It was regional and it did decimate habitats, villages and settlements, only in the Middle East. The Biblical story of the Deluge is not correct.

On hell, paradise, death and the human soul.

Question: Do you believe in hell?

Alien: No.

Question asked by a bishop: Do you believe in heaven?

The Christian Paradise?

Alien: No.

Question by a bishop: Do you mean there is no life after death and nowhere…nothing…no place to go to after death? Life ends on Earth?

The soul is not immortal?

Alien: There is no soul, only a mind.

And the realm of mind is limitless and endless.

The Soul, the human soul your kind believes in, is produced by a cell in your brain; a cell you did not discover yet.

The brain's cell is responsible for everything.

Note: In a second meeting, the alien spoke once again about that particular cell in our brains, which is responsible for everything and anything that shapes, conditions, animates and produces our psyche, feelings, thoughts, organism, and intelligence,

It is in that particular cell, that the so-called human soul exists, lives, and transforms itself into other substances and dimensions during our life, and in the afterlife.

The alien added, it is the vibrational projection of the cells in the brain that lasts after death and is retransformed into another form of energy. Because soul as we know it does not exist; it is an idea created by early human beings for reasons not worthy discussing. The Anunnaki Ulema said the very same thing. There is no soul trapped in the human body.

This idea was created by the cave man even though he did not understand what soul is.

It was his way to communicate with the “Divine” and the supernatural, and to continue to live after death.

The Enlightened Masters and Anunnaki Ulema believe that humans have more than one brain in one location, although it is invisible to the naked eye. And this very brain/mind is what we erroneously call “soul”. According to the “Book of Ramadosh”, the Enlightened Masters have a totally separate Mental Faculty (Mind, Fik’r) in their “Cellular Conduit”.

Statement of modern scientists:

Soul is not a spiritual substance. It is a by-product of the Mind; a neuronal process of the Mind, produced by a cell in the Brain. For many decades I wrote about the concept of the Soul and its mechanism, based upon the Kira’at of the Anunnaki Ulema.

And I tried to explain how the concept of soul was created by the caveman, our ancestors, and religious organizations. Later on in history, the idea or concept of soul was conveniently exploited and used by priests of the antiquity (And modern times as well) to serve their interests.

This idea/concept was an effective tool they used to their advantage, to dominate the illiterate masses, and to scare the hell out of us, especially, when priests attach the soul to a final judgment and to an eternal punishment in a burning hell.

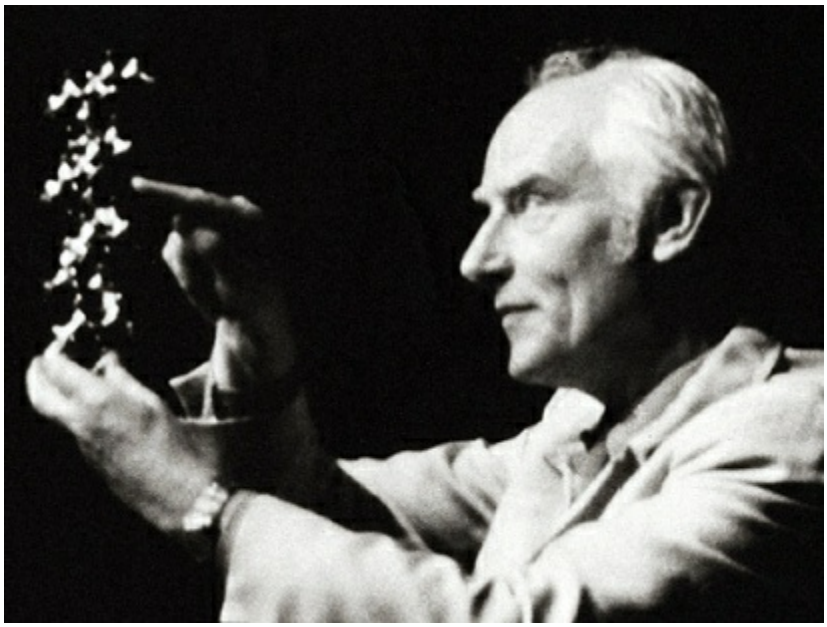
Outrageously the church claims that all those who do not follow the teaching of the Holy Church and do not obey its bishops, their souls will suffer forever in a burning hell.

How convenient and how easy it is to use, to manipulate, and to scare the masses and the feeble minds with “Soul Punishment” and “suffering in an eternal hell’s fire!!”

Without hesitation and fear, I publicly stated that the soul as we think we know it does not exist.

Instead, there is a primordial energy of motion and thoughts, including feelings and reactions, produced and emanated by a miniscule cell in our brain, yet to be discovered by science.

The Ulema call Soul “Fik’r” and is animated by a “Cellular Conduit”. The aliens and especially the Beings of Lights of Aldebaran who are millions of years ahead of us call soul “A brain’s cell responsible for everything and anything that happens in our body and in our mind, separately and/or concurrently.”



Nobel Prize winner, and discoverer of DNA, Dr. Francis Crick.

He said: “There is no soul.”

In the United States, around 2010, a group of highly advanced scientists in numerous areas defined the soul as a neuronal process of the Mind, produced by a cell in the brain.

And I was delighted to watch on the Science Channel (June 2011) in the United States, two eminent scientists talking about the brain's cell where our so-called soul is stored.

They made it very clear to their audience that the soul as a spiritual substance does NOT exist; it is rather a by-product of the brain. I have said that some fifty years ago, and I have elaborated on the subject in numerous books I wrote on the Anunnaki, Ulema and the afterlife.

Nobel Prize winner and the co-discoverer of our DNA, Dr. Francis Crick wrote: "The astonishing hypothesis is, that there is no soul. The soul is not more or less than the neural processes in our brain."

On human civilization and ethics.

Question: Do you have a chronology of Earth?

Alien: It is recorded.

Question: Where?

Alien: in the Miraya.

Question: What is that?

Alien: A cosmic monitor. A cosmic depository.

Question: Where do we find this depository?

Alien: You can't. It is beyond your reach.

Question: Who recorded Earth's chronology?

Alien: You did.

Everything you did; your noise, your broadcast, your wars, your savagery, your weapons, your violence.

Question: We did?

How could we, if the depository you talked about is beyond our reach?

Alien: You could still look at some far distant objects or at a particular destination in the universe, and you would not be able to reach, because of the enormous distances that separate them from you, but these objects and destination will always be there, whether you reach them or not.

You do not need to reach a destination or touch an object to make it exist. Look at your moon. Did you touch it? Did you reach it?

No. But it is there. Same thing for the depository.

It is there like the Moon which you can't reach, but in the future, you will land on the surface of the Moon, and you will begin to understand.

Question: How would you define an advanced civilization?

Alien: When you stop using power, aggression and threat to convince others, you will be on your way to civilization.

When you look toward the universe and other communities before you look at yourself, you will be on your way to build a civilization. When you get rid of your weapons, any tools of destruction, you will be on your way to civilization. When you stop to have locks on your doors and fear intrusions, you will be on your way to civilization.

When you unify one language for all the people of your kind to use, you will be on your way to civilization. When you stop to categorize people by gender, by race and by colors, you will be on your way to civilization.

When you are no longer in need of guardians (The alien meant police officers and law enforcements), judges, jails, and punishment, you will be on your way to civilization.

When you get rid of your monetary system, you will be on your way to civilization. When you stop killing each other, and living creatures (animals and creatures of the sea) and eating their flesh and drinking their blood, you will be on your way to civilization.

When you stop dropping your waste in the oceans and polluting your environments, you will be on your way to civilization. When you get rid of your threatening organized religions you will be on your way to civilization.

When you start to believe in the divine essence of yourself and the spiritual mental immortality of your very being, you will be on your way to civilization.

But, we know you will never do any of this.

Note: An anthropologist who was listening to the alien's answer had tears in his eyes. You would think that the attendees at the meeting would/could be motivated and impressed by what the alien has said. Absolutely not. Instead, many of the attendees continued to hammer the alien with tricky questions.

Question: Do you consider us an advanced civilization?

Alien: No.

Question: What it would take for a civilization to be considered civilized and advanced?

Alien: I have already answered this question.

Question: How can we convince your people we are a peaceful nation?

Alien: We already know your intentions. You can't.

You are not a peaceful nation.

Q: How come you know so much about our life, customs, habits, science, and history and what we do on Earth?

Alien: This is a very simple matter.

Everything you do and you've done does not vanish. The substance of everything you have done, whether physical or mental takes on a new shape, a new form.

Nothing in the universe comes to an end.

Instead, it transforms itself into something else. If not, the universe will seize to expand and to exist.

If each time, part of the universe, part of your Earth, part of the stars, part of the rocks, part of the air, part of the water vanishes and disappears, the universe will be missing a lot of things. And, if this continues endlessly, the universe will be empty. But emptiness does not exist in the universe, even though, a part of the universe is missing.

There is no such thing as an empty space because if there is something like an empty space you will not be able to find it. And, to know where this empty space is, you have to know the limit of the empty space by comparing it to a full space.

The fact that you are doing this means, you have given a size, shape, a space and a border to that empty space.

This is a matter of mathematics and physics, according to your science. So everything you have done on your planet has been preserved.

We can tap into the space and time of everything you have done. We are interested in humanity and your progress.

You have been broadcasting for some time now.

And the frequencies of your programs and your music are well preserved.

We knew about you, and also about other advanced societies in the universe; we knew about you from the very beginning.

We did not contact you because you had nothing to offer us.

And if you wonder why now we are suddenly interested in you and your planet, I could give you lots of answers.

Some of the members of the galactic community already lived on your planet. Many left, while others remained here.

And with those who have remained here on your planet we share information and communicate via means and ways, your mind can’t imagine or understand.

We enter and exit your sky (atmosphere) through time pockets. And this also is something you are not capable of understanding, but in the future you will.

On the creation of the human race, and the origin of Man and the earliest human species:

The alien said:

1-At the dawn of your race, several human species had long tail. Do you think they were created in the image of your God?

2-An archaic human-reptilian race lived on your planet.

3-Your modern species (Final form of human beings) were genetically created by the Anunnaki.

Your God did not create your kind. You were created by the stars, and those who lived on the stars.

The Anunnaki created you as humanoid-robots to serve their needs, and you were “re-transformed” into humans following years of genetic manipulations.

A genetic manipulation created your modern physiognomy, and stayed the very same for the past 11,000 years. The early form of your kind (Humans) was created some 65,000 years ago.

4-Neither your theory of Evolution nor your theory of the Creation is correct.

5-You are (The human race) not important to us.

6-You (Human beings) can create other humans, you have the possibility… you don’t need a God to do that.

A world created by an evil god:

According to the Gnostics, the world is not created by a good God but by an evil God; the devil himself.

The alien said, “Earth is where the lowest life-forms and species live.”

(Note: The alien meant the human race.

In other segments of the Aliens Transcripts, the alien stated, “Galactic civilizations view Planet Earth as a dumpster.”

The alien added, “Earth and its people were not created by an evil or a vicious god, or by the devil himself, but by the universe itself.

And, all those bad things which are happening today in your world (society), and have occurred in the past, are caused by your genetic makeup.

You were not created by what you call “God”, but rather by a multitude of processes, and you were “upgraded” by a highly advanced alien race. Your final “product” and “shape” are shaped in their image. You should have said you were created in the image of those who created you, and not by what you call God.”

Note: Maronite priest Father Hannah Saloum confirmed to me that the scrolls at Al Kaslik Monastery contained almost identical statements written in Aramaic (Syriac) and Arabic.

Recreation of full-size specimens of early human and quasi-human species.

In fact, military scientists and models makers attempted to forensically recreate full-size specimens of early humans and quasi-human races-species based solely upon direct instructions and anatomical descriptions given to us by the aliens.

The aliens told us that humans can create a brand new race of humans, and we should not be very concerned with the “Idea” of a “Human Soul” or playing God, since neither soul nor God exists. Soul should be understood as energy, a cellular “dynamo” rather than a divine creation of God. And God should be referred to as a “Cosmic Power” instead of a divine/Biblical figure.

In fact, military scientists, geneticists and models’ makers solicited the help of the curator of a famous institution-museum in Washington, D.C., known for his expertise in the field of genetics and molecular biology; the curator candidly told them that it couldn’t be done.

Instead, he suggested that they should contact a noted Hollywood’s director-producer known for using fantastic special effects and robotics.

The Hollywood's man recommended a few artists who work at Walt Disney's studio. The folks at Disney began to work on the project, which during its second phase ended up in the laboratory of one of the major universities in Israel.

Anti-Semite whistleblowers in academia and the military complained, and rushed to conclude that it was a Jewish conspiracy!

It is absolutely ridiculous!

Finally, after 4 years of creative and pioneering work, some archaic humans and quasi-human forms (Mannequins) came to life, and an extensive cataloging process began.

I hope, I do really hope that one day, the whole world will have access to these marvels. It is not going to be a pretty picture, but enlightening and educational, to say the least.

According to the Alien we met in 1948, and intraterrestrials' accounts, some of the early humans, more correctly quasi-humans had a long tail, and co-habited with other reptilian races and Afarit in a large area in ancient Turkey.

Some were captured by travelers from outer space.

It was very clear from the Grays' narrative description of the Anunnaki and their genetic programs, that they hated the Anunnaki and their offspring.

This subject was not an interesting topic to military, but the anthropologists who were present at the early meetings, convinced the military that such information is priceless, because it could explain the origin of Man, and our place in the universe. So, the subject was kept wide open, and many questions were asked. At one point during the discussion, the alien told us that a visit to Cappadocia in Turkey would be very useful, informative and convincing.

The alien also suggested to the military to visit Derinkuyu and Gobekli Tepe. The generals were not impressed.

The military men at the meeting got so bored.

The military men, military scientists as well as government's officials representing The White House and intelligence agencies at the meeting got so bored and even upset with the archbishop's non-stop questions about ethics, morality, Christianity and religion; they didn't come to the meeting to discuss Jesus, God, the Church and other religious matters.

Their interests rotated exclusively around the nature of aliens, the purpose of their visits, where they came from, their spaceships, their technology, and ultimately how to reverse engineer alien technology for the sole purpose of using it as a weapon system, and other closely related use and purposes.

A general who was in charge of the meeting and proceedings told the archbishop to stop asking this kind of questions.

The archbishop became agitated and furious, and insisted upon continuing to ask the alien about matters related to religion, God, Jesus and the Church.

The archbishop was expelling like an old Ford T model, and kept on gripping a large gold cross that he wore around his neck, and rubbing it with a feverishly agitated motion, back and forth against his chest.

Across the table sat a very famous evangelist, who thankfully kept a reserved composure during the entire meeting.

Synopsis of what the aliens told us about Jesus.

1-During his lifetime, Yashou or Imanuil (Jesus) was not an important figure, and was known to few in small and poor villages.

2-Jesus was not a Jew. He was Phoenician.

3-Jesus did not die on the cross. And after his crucifixion, he was rescued, and spent the rest of his life with his wife Myriam Magdala in Massilia in Southern France.

4-Jesus was a man and not God or the son of God.

5-Jesus did not perform supernatural miracles, only extraordinary healing.

6-The wedding of Jesus and Myriam Magdala took place in Cana, a small village in Southern Phoenicia (Modern day Lebanon).

One of the weirdest and unexpected things about what the aliens said to an archbishop about Jesus Christ, and who was seated next to a famous scientist from Los Alamos laboratory at one of the early meetings with an alien was this: Jesus Christ did exist; he had wisdom but he put himself into lots of troubles, really unnecessary. He was not a dominant social figure. We have a true account of his life that you should consider, and when we will meet again we'll bring you this account."

The alien added: "We have watched various episodes from your history and your civilizations on our "Cosmic Screen" (An extraordinary tool used to rewind time and learn about past events.) None of the four Bibles written by the disciples of your Jesus Christ was ever written by any disciple, for they were totally illiterate, and could not write or read, or understand ancient Greek, Latin or any foreign language.

Note: In fact, only scholars, historians and an elite of the ruling class, and highly educated people (In and outside the Roman Empire) could read and speak Greek, Latin, and/or any foreign language.

Worth mentioning here that Jesus spoke in Aramaic, and not in Hebrew. His disciples who were illiterate and from the lowest social class spoke only Aramaic. Only Judas was fluent in both Hebrew and Aramaic.

Of course Jesus Christ knew both languages. He learned those languages at the Phoenician Temple of Melkart, in healing centers in Phoenicia and from the Essenes. When he argued with the rabbis he could have used any of the two languages. But his disciples could not.

The Hebrew was spoken a few kilometers from where the disciples lived, and they did not know a word in Hebrew. So, don't expect the disciples to know and to understand Greek or Latin, languages which were spoken thousands of miles away from their homeland.

The alien added "The four Bibles are not authentic. And this is very sad for you because your people can't distinguish between the real Jesus Christ and the mythical one you have created. More than ¾ of your Bibles is incorrect, distorted, copied and recopied several times over, and each time new stories were added, and old ones were deleted.

That is why you see many contradictions in you Bible.

Archbishop: Do you believe in Jesus Christ?

Alien: Jesus Christ did exist. He was a man of wisdom.

Archbishop: Was Jesus the son of God?

Alien: You created the idea of God.

Archbishop: How did we create the idea of God?

Alien: God as you define it exists only on your planet. I have already explained this.

Q: Do you believe in Jesus Christ's resurrection?

Alien: Resurrection?

Archbishop: Yes, resurrection from death. Didn't he die on the cross and come back to life?

Alien: None of your species can come back from death.

Note: The registration of the alien's answer on the screen was originally: "Your kind dies.

And none of your kind comes back from life's termination (Meaning death).

Archbishop: How do you know that?

Alien: By rewinding time. You wouldn't understand.

Archbishop: What is rewinding time?

Alien: You wouldn’t understand.

The Gnostics:

An archbishop asked the alien:

Q: How about the other bibles written by the heretics?

Note: He meant the Gnostics.

Alien: Same thing, many stories were fabricated, but at least they got the most important thing right.”

Archbishop: What do you mean? What did they get right?

Alien: Let me give you a few examples that you can easily understand.

a-The Gnostics said, Jesus is not divine; he is not the son of God, and, they got it right.

b-They said that Jesus did not die on the cross, and, they got it right.

c-The Gnostic said Jesus never came back from the dead, and they got it right.

Jesus Christ according to the account of Anati.

(on Jesus Christ and Mary Magdalene.)

Regardless of whether you are going to believe or disbelief the account of Ambar Anati (A hybrid woman), or you are about to ridicule and mock this most extraordinary account based upon time-travel and rewinding time, I remain very confident that the information and revelations contained in Anati’s account will captivate your mind.

But before you read any part of Anati’s account, remind yourself of what quantum physics’ contemporary scientists (Dr. Michio Kaku to name one), and the leaders of the parallel dimension and supersymmetry theories have said about the multiverse, and the “continuous existence” of people (Our Life) in other dimensions.

You will never believe the story of Anati unless and until you revisit the Supersymetry and multiple dimensions’ theories as advanced by said quantum physics’ scientists.

Anati in her own words:

We, who live such short lives, make many historical mistakes, even when written records are available. Take, for instance, the issue of Jesus and the crucifixion. I was raised a Presbyterian, and my parents took me quite often to church. It had become a habit, and I never questioned or even thought about the Crucifixion.

Well, imagine my surprise when Sinhar Marduchk told me that Jesus did not die on the cross! I hope I am not upsetting anyone, but the real story involves the existence of two tombs. Apparently, it was planned. Jesus Christ was given a rag soaked in vinegar and “Moukhadar” which caused deep anesthesia, and made him sleep.

Later in the day he was indeed stabbed with a spear, but not fatally, and at sunset the soldiers assumed he was dead and took him down.

His uncle Joseph of Arimatheawho had arranged the matter wrapped him with a shroud, and took him to a faraway cave (A second grave) to hide him and help him recover, but then two persons hired by his uncle took the bloody shroud and left it in the tomb everyone expected him to be in. He was never there, thus giving rise to the story of the resurrection.

A few days later, Jesus was secretly taken to Phoenicia, where he partially recovered.

His uncle Joseph of Arimathea put Jesus and his wife on a Phoenician boat that went to Cyprus. Eventually, they fled to Marseille, France, where they settled permanently and had children. Jesus worked in his profession, a handyman (he never really was a carpenter, this is a translation mistake), lived peacefully, and avoided all matters of religion for the rest of his life. His descendants lived in France, and some of them still exist.

“Does that story bother you?” asked Sinhar Marduchk. “Not at all,” I said. “I am no longer a religious person, and I would much rather know the truth than live in ignorance.” Sinhar Marduchk smiled with appreciation. Apparently he liked to see that I kept an open mind.

I must tell how I was later rewarded by being taught how to time travel, and thus be able to meet Mary Magdalene and Jesus in person.

My first time travel; how I met Jesus and Mary Magdalene – who turned out very differently than expected.

It is impossible to describe my feelings regarding my expected visit with Mary Magdalene.

I always had a deep interest in her and thought she must have been a most complicated personality, and her place in history, next to Jesus himself, was enough to make me revere her. The thought of seeing her was an emotional whirlwind, particularly since Sinhar Inannaschamra was quite sure that I will be able to meet Jesus as well. Having been brought up a Christian, it was difficult for me to accept the possibility that Jesus not only did not die on the cross, but lived happily in Massilia (modern Marseille) with his wife and family. I assumed I would have to use a cone to learn the language spoken in ancient Gallia Narbonensis, the part of France where Massilia existed, prepare my clothing, and practice shape shifting, but it turned out I was wrong. All I had to do, said Sinhar Inannaschamra, was to wear my Monitor around my neck, exactly the way I wore it when I went to my mission at the military base, and use the same code, so she could keep an eye on me. She was going to check on me periodically, and if anything, went wrong, come and get me.

But she expected everything to go smoothly, and as always, I trusted her. She gave me exact directions as to what to do and how to behave, and indeed, it seemed so simple I could hardly believe it.

“How do I get back?” I asked.

“Very easy,” said Sinhar Inannaschamra. “Just speak the code to the Monitor. It will do the rest, you will hardly feel it.”

Next morning I went to the Akashic Library, wearing normal clothes and carrying nothing other than the Monitor around my neck. I repeated the steps I took when I met with the Council, only this time requested the Departures Room. The pad took me to an octagon-shaped glass pavilion that stood out of the main building, surrounded by ancient conifers. The glass was transparent, so I could see that the room was entirely empty, other than one stool in the middle of it.

The room was not very big, and it had a glass door, also transparent. I entered, and to my amazement, I could not see anything outside, because the glass became opaque.

I had no idea at the time what caused it, since Sinhar Inannaschamra forgot to tell me about it. Later, I found out that the air in the room has a special quality that made the glass opaque.

As instructed, I sat on the stool, and that started the action. One of the panels opened up, and millions of charts with codes started to flicker on a screen. At the same time, all the other panels turned black. The whole room darkened, and only the front panel, which showed the charts, had any light on it.

At this moment, the screen seemed to release a plasma-like substance, and it came toward me and circled my body. I began to spin around myself, feeling very dizzy and strangely heavy.

I am not sure how long it lasted, but it seemed that in an instant I found myself in an ancient town by the sea. To me it seemed not much larger than a fishing village, but this was only because I was not used to first century towns and had the prejudices of a modern person as to what a town should look like. This was Massilia, the Roman name for present day Marseille, a thriving, growing Roman trading port, and I knew it did well because it was the first town of Gallia Narbonensis to have a public sewer system.

Actually, it was already an old town, since originally it was built by the Greeks and had archaeological remnants of the Greek settlement. But the Romans had added quite a lot of buildings, streets, and roads since Julius Caesar conquered it.

I knew what to expect, but the experience was nevertheless incredibly bizarre.

so.

When time traveling, it is almost as if one travels in virtual reality, and the experience has to build upon itself, to materialize. Therefore, the place was entirely empty, with only a few fishermen standing at a distance on the shore. But they were not moving, they were like statues. The rest of the town was completely empty of people. I felt the town was alive, as if expecting something to happen, but no one was in sight.

All of a sudden, people started to appear in the street, but they came from nowhere, from the empty space in the air. Materializing one by one, they filled the town; it felt as if I was meeting apparitions. Then, in a few minutes, I adapted, and started experiencing real life in a real town. Everything became normal.

I decided to take a short walk to just study the town a little. Massilia was a bustling town.

The houses were made of stone fixed with mud, low and sturdy, but a few houses were truly elegant. Walking toward the opposite direction from the sea, I entered the open market, full of little stores and workshops. Each workshop was a small, rather dark room, that opened into the street with a large, open doorway.

You could see the craftsman working on the goods he hoped to sell, or the merchant surrounded by his goods.

Most of the stores were devoted to foodstuffs, such as stores of neatly packaged spices, or one devoted to cheeses and pickles.

But there were also some shops that sold fabrics and various notions needed for weaving, sewing, and embroidery. The market, with its noisy cries of the merchants, the interesting smells, and colorful sights, was extremely appealing. After enjoying strolling in the market, I turned back and walked to the shore. The whole place smelled like fresh fish, but it was not terribly unpleasant despite my growing dislike for animal food. Those fishermen who were not at sea were mending nets, cleaning their catch, and doing other chores. Some little fishing boats were turned upside down, being mended. The sun was shining, the light Mediterranean breeze was blowing, and beautiful, big white shells were strewn everywhere. I picked a little warm sand in my hand. Having been brought up in Maine, I was very fond of the sea. The place felt like home and I felt a twinge of homesickness, remembering how my mother used to bring me to the shore and help me collect shells and smooth sea glass and pebbles.

I decided the time came to drag myself away from nostalgia and go visit Mary Magdalene, fully aware that I was postponing this very thing I wished to do because I was quite nervous about it. Resolutely, I turned away and went into the town proper. Many women were carrying baskets on their way to the market, and to my relief, as I looked at myself, I was assured that I was wearing the same clothes as any of the better dressed women who walked the streets. I had on a long woollen outfit, white with multicolor stripes on the sleeves and on the hem, soft leather sandals, and a thin silk scarf loosely covering my head.

Obviously, I matched the upper class ladies, just as Sinhar Inannaschamra told me I would. I took my Monitor, which was still hanging around my neck, and looked at my face in the mirror that was part of the Monitor. I looked different than the usual, in a subtle way. The spinning that turns into shape shifting, really affects all the molecules in one's body, even helps one fit into the climate and environment one travels to.

Sometimes one does look different for the duration of the trip. I looked a little older, I thought. That was good, I would inspire confidence in Mary Magdalene as an older woman. I must say I liked the ornate silver earrings I was wearing, just showing under the white silk scarf.

The only thing left was to rehearse the language. At the moment of arrival, I did not know the language, but all it took was hearing one or two words spoken on the street.

This is because the spinning opens up the Conduit "Mind's Cellular Conduit", and triggers the part of the knowledge depot which is the seat of all languages.

As soon as I heard those words, I knew the language as if I had spoken it all my life. I rehearsed a few words, just in case, and felt comfortable. But I was determined to speak to Mary Magdalene in Aramaic, her own language.

I looked at the Monitor, got directions to Mary Magdalene's house, and strolled there, still enjoying the sights and sounds of the busy town. I did not have far to go to the small, neat house, well maintained, and standing in a little garden planted with herbs and flowers. Like all the other houses, it was made of stone and mud, and two stories high.

I stood on the other side of the street, wondering how to approach Mary Magdalene. I was so excited about the meeting, that I did not think about what lines to use to persuade her to talk to me. But everything worked out very well. As luck would have it, I saw a woman approaching the house, carrying a basket. One look and I knew it was Mary Magdalene, because Sinhar Inannaschamra showed her to me on the monitor. She was not beautiful, exactly, but nevertheless was extremely attractive. She must have been in her late thirties, small and slight but with an elegant figure, and she carried herself with poise and dignity.

She had lovely, warm brown eyes, and dark chestnut hair slightly touched with white at the temple, which I could see because her scarf was sitting way back on her head. She was simply and neatly dressed in an outfit very much like mine.

I approached her, and greeted her in Aramaic, introducing myself. She seemed extremely surprised and delighted. “Are you from Judea?” she asked in a very pleasant voice.

“No, I am Phoenician,” I said. A half-truth, but I really could not do any better.

“It is nice to hear you speak Aramaic,” she said.

“My husband and I speak it at home, and taught it to the children, but most of our friends here do not know it. Won’t you come in and rest, and have some refreshments? And tell me what is it that you wished to speak to me about?”

I accepted with pleasure, and we entered the living room, a simply furnished but very clean and pleasant place. She went to place her basket elsewhere, probably a separate little room devoted to cooking, thus giving me time to observe the room carefully.

This was clearly the house of a middle class family.

It had many comforts and conveniences, though certainly not ostentation or overt luxury.

The walls were neatly plastered and whitewashed, the floor was tiled, and the windows had a lattice structure that provided security and decoration at the same time. There were three or four niches in the walls, each containing an oil lamp. This family obviously did not go to bed with the sun, as poor people were forced to do; the lamps spoke of reading and writing and spending time with family and friends after the sun had set. A few small rugs covered the floor. The room was very adequately furnished with a large table with two benches, each with a few colorful, embroidered pillows on it, storage boxes made from beautiful dark wood, and a built-in stone pallet, with a throw and pillows providing comfortable sitting.

Here and there, on the rugs, there were also large cassock-like pillows covered with beautiful fabrics.

A couple of copper braziers stood by the wall, awaiting the season of winter and glowing softly. In a corner stood another large table, covered with manuscripts, including one that was currently worked on, writing implements, and inks. The whole room was scented by a big bunch of cut herbs and flowers in a clay jar that stood on the dining table.

Mary Magdalene came back with cold water, wine, cakes, dried figs, and honey.

“As you might know, the Romans decided to make a law here that women cannot drink wine when a man is not around, but we don’t pay much attention to it… they don’t really follow you into the privacy of your home, I must say.” She poured me a glass of wine. The wine was delicious, and she pressed some of the food on me.

“I noticed that your beautiful throw on the couch is white and striped with blue,” I said.

“These are our colors in Phoenicia, the symbolic colors of the god Melkart.”

“Well, there is little difference between our nations, and white and blue are our colors as well. I knitted this throw, thinking all the time of Judea…” said Mary Magdalene. “Our nations are related, you know.

Not only through the marriage of King Solomon and King Hiram’s daughter, but even before. I like to hear Yeshua tell me, and the children, about the history of our people.

And he told us that many people believe that Joshua, the one that helped Moses during the Exodus, really was a Phoenician Prince. As a matter of fact, he entered Canaan independently, from the north, and settled peacefully. He never even knew Moses, they say."

"I had no idea," I said, making a mental note that this would be a subject worth pursuing at the Akashic Library on my next visit there. "This is fascinating. I really must look into it. I like history too, you know, very much."

"You must visit us often, then, and discuss this matters with Yeshua. He will be happy to meet another enthusiast of his favorite subject."

"I would love that… I promise I will come back, if you will let me. But I might as well tell you what I came to ask you, before I go on enjoying your hospitality," I said, a little guiltily. "You may be angry with me, since I am about to rake up your husband's past."

"I am rarely angry," said Mary Magdalene.

"And I don't really mind talking about the past, as long as it is with another woman. I am still afraid of men, though. I always feel we are forever in danger. I constantly warn my husband to stay out of trouble.

Now that he is older, he listens better. Yeshua is a very nice, kind man, and he does listen to me when I advise him on many matters, but sometimes I wonder if he understands that we should be careful for as long as we live.

He is very intelligent, and extremely well-educated, but between you and me, he has absolutely no common sense."

"I know little about your husband, only that he was falsely arrested by the Romans and you had to leave Judea."

"Indeed, that is the truth. I always knew we would get in trouble," said Mary Magdalene, her smile disappearing.

"As I said before, and I mean it, Yeshua just did not have any sense whatsoever. He was a healer, and he had great success in curing many people.

Unfortunately, he was also a bit of a magician, and instead of keeping his talents to himself, he would go and perform his healings and miracles in front of important people. They hated him."

"But they could not object to his healings?" I asked.

"Nothing is wrong with making people feel better."

"Even healing can seem to be blasphemy, particularly if you also do magical tricks as part of your performance. There was even foolish talk about his making the dead rise – of course this was sheer nonsense. The person that 'rose' from the dead, his name was Lazarus, a relative, simply fainted and Yeshua made him feel better – but such stupid talk would cause trouble.

Yeshua never even heard of the story – he was away with his friends the Essenes when it circulated, and I kept it from him when he came back; no point in giving him ideas... But his talents of healing got him a bunch of followers, disciples of sort, and they were good for nothing.

All they wanted was magic and sensational tricks, and they went about saying blasphemous things about Yeshua being the Messiah. Naturally, the Sanhedrin, once they heard the word Messiah, took a dislike to him."

"They would be sensitive about it, I suppose," I said.

"The Messiah is an important issue with your religion."

"Well, yes, and I must admit Yeshua was quite annoying," said Mary Magdalene, smiling somewhat indulgently at the memory.

"The business of having disciples made him think himself of more importance than was good for him. He insisted on preaching, and told people he was the Son of God. Now, that was a common thing to say if you knew the Essenes, a group of desert recluses he once lived with and kept on visiting; actually he spent quite a long time with them, enough to get him to believe in much of their doctrines.

They call every honest person 'Son of God.'

But the authorities did not like it. Again, it sounded to them like blasphemy. The Sanhedrin members were very set in their ways, except for one man, Joseph of Arimathea.

That is because Joseph was an Essene, too, and the uncle of Yeshua.

No one knew it, he kept it a secret, since belonging to a sect would have spoiled his business and his reputation, but he never gave up the connection.

And of course there was Nicodemus, his young protégé. He was also an Essene.

Joseph and Nicodemus were real friends to us. I don't know what we would have done without Joseph, he really handled everything when the trouble began."

"And Yeshua was tried before the Sanhedrin, right?"

"Not right away.

First, he was arrested and taken to an interview with the Procurator."

"Am I right that this was Pontius Pilate?" I asked.

"Yes," said Mary Magdalene. "That was him. Do you know he was replaced a few years later?"

"No, I had no idea. Why was he replaced?"

"He was accused of some crimes, which of course he did not commit. He simply fell out of favor. Joseph told us on one of his visits to Massilia, since he was very much surprised when the replacement happened. The Romans are sometimes very cruel; it is possible, though we are not sure, that they forced him to commit suicide. Anyway, Pontius Pilate was not terribly interested in Yeshua… it seems he even wanted to acquit him.

We know a little because his bodyguard, a Roman centurion, heard everything that was said when Pilate spoke to the representative of the Sanhedrin, and later wrote it all down.

That is because he knew Yeshua, who once cured his daughter from a terrible illness. He really saved her life, and from a distance, too. Yeshua never saw the child; he was good at such things. The Roman centurion was very grateful to Yeshua, and thought it would help if he took these notes for posterity. I imagine he knew that between the Romans and the Sanhedrin, they would execute Yeshua. But there was more to it than just this interview.

As I said, Pontius Pilate probably would have let Yeshua go free, because he could not care less about religious matters, which were the chief complaints of the Sanhedrin. Rather, Pilate asked him if he had any designs against Caesar, and Yeshua answered that of course not, he had no problem with Caesar at all, he knew Caesar ruled Judea legally. So Pilate asked him if he would admit to Caesar being the strongest god, which was the standard thing to ask, and that was Yeshua's downfall.

I would have advised him to admit Caesar's superiority, since it was a private interview and none of his friends was there to hear it.

But Yeshua could not bring himself to blaspheme against God. The fool, all he had to do was just nod his head… and what is more, he went very far in his protestations about Caesar. He told Pilate that he, Yeshua, was more powerful than Caesar because there was only one God, and he was the son of God. Again, more Essene nonsense. Naturally, after that, Pilate simply had to turn him over to the Sanhedrin, he had no choice. Someone, years later, was circulating the rumour that Pontius Pilate never forgot Yeshua. Apparently, he was quite interested in his capacity as a healer, and even intended to send him to Caesarea, to be his own healer, since he had some illnesses. Ah, well. Sometimes, the Sanhedrin can be more cruel than the Romans."

"And what happened then?"

"A huge, famous trial took place. The high priest, Caiaphas, was after Yeshua's blood. He was a Sadducee, you know, one of the rich, higher classes. He felt that Yeshua was a threat to the usual order of rich and poor, high and low… you know, a rebel. Caiaphas was a really nasty man, eager for power. And he had power, lots of it…Our friend, Joseph of Arimathea, did a brilliant job of defending Yeshua, and it would have gone well, but for once Joseph made a horrible mistake.

He questioned him, 'Do you consider yourself the Messiah?' and Yeshua denied that in the most sensible manner; after all, Yeshua never thought of himself as the Messiah! Never came into his head to imagine that! Then, Joseph asked the question that destroyed everything. He said, 'Who are you, then, Yeshua?' and Yeshua was stupid enough to say, 'I am the Son of God.'

I know, I know, he should have known better, but he was very foolish at that time. That gave the Sanhedrin the excuse to send him to the crucifixion. Caiaphas practically jumped with joy when he heard Yeshua say this thing. Horrible, horrible man, Caiaphas. I will hate him as long as I live, and believe me, I am not quick to hate."

"So he really was crucified," I said, sadly.

“Yes, Yeshua was crucified. I cannot tell you how cruel, how horrible, this practice is. He suffered so much, blood all over his body. I was with his mother, and one of his disciples, but nobody else. All the other disciples ran away, they were scared to death, fearing they would be arrested by the Sanhedrin. It broke my heart that these people, who always claimed to love Yeshua so much, were not there for him as he was dying. A few people gathered around, probably just curious people, and they stood near the cross, but not very close, because the Roman soldiers did not allow them to do so. His poor mother collapsed twice in my arms.”

“His mother, Mary of Nazareth… Yes, please tell me, what was Mary like?”

“Mary… I miss her so much. She was very kind, always so sweet. I loved her very much, she never said an unkind word to me. And she had every reason to be mad at me, because I broke God’s law and lived with Yeshua before we were legally married, I am ashamed to say…”

“But you always meant to be married, so it does not signify,” I said.

“Oh, indeed, we always meant to be married.

It was just because of all these delays and troubles, and things sometimes just happen when you are young…Still, many other women would have held it against me. But not Mary. She was too kind.”

“What did she look like?”

“She was incredibly beautiful,” said Mary Magdalene, her eyes misty with the memory. “I have never seen anyone as beautiful as Mary. She was only fourteen when Yeshua was born, so she was still young when the trouble happened. She had very long black hair, which she always put in one long braid.

Her skin was white, like the finest ivory, and she had big, clear blue eyes, rather unusual for our people. She always wore a lot of blue, she was a little vain about her eyes and about her great beauty, but not in an unpleasant way, and who could blame her…My daughter Sarah inherited these amazing eyes, every time I look at her I think of Mary…” She wiped a tear.

“Do you know, Mary’s hair began to gray very quickly after Yeshua’s crucifixion. It only took a couple of months before it was all silvery white; it must have been the agony she went through, seeing her son undergo such pain. But even with the silver hair she looked young and beautiful. Perhaps even more beautiful. There was something so delicate, so soulful about Mary."

"So the two of you stayed by Yeshua's side. It must have been heart-breaking."

"We just stood there, crying and helpless.

The men on the two crosses on Yeshua's sides fainted, off and on, like Yeshua. Then, Nicodemus came and asked the Roman soldier, who was guarding this row of crucifixes, if he can wipe the face of Yeshua, and give him something to drink from a sponge.

The soldier said 'Yes, go ahead,' so Nicodemus dipped the sponge in a bucket and brought it to Yeshua's mouth. I saw him sipping from the sponge, and blood kept pouring and pouring from his hands and his feet. A few moments later, it was clear that he passed away; Mary fainted and fell to the floor. As for me, I felt this was not happening, as if it was a nightmare, and I was expecting to wake up. As if in a dream, I approached the Roman soldier and asked him if I could take Yeshua home for burial. I simply could not bear to leave him there on the cross. But he said that this was against the rules.

I asked him, 'What are you going to do with his body? He is dead, after all.' The soldier told me that the law requires that all crucified people first be checked to see if they were really dead, because sometimes it takes them two or three days to die. And after that, the Romans would take them and dump them in a place reserved for crucified people and other condemned dead prisoners."

"This is disgraceful," I said

"Yes, it was very hard. But we were helpless. What could two women do against the Roman soldiers?

So we left, and returned to the house, where we kept crying all of the late afternoon and evening.

Suddenly the door opened, and Joseph of Arimathea came in. He looked hurried and upset. 'I have some news for you,' he said. 'I went to Pontius Pilate and I asked him for a favor. I know Pilate through business, so they let me in.

I asked him if I could take Yeshua's body to be buried in my own family grave. Pilate said 'Fine, go ahead.'

To tell you the truth, I don't think Pilate cared one bit about anyone in Judea. He was so bored with us and all he wanted was to get out of this nasty job."

"So Joseph got the body? What did he do with it?" I asked.

"I can repeat the exact conversation, I remember it like yesterday," said Mary Magdalene. "Joseph said, 'this is a great secret, which you cannot tell anyone, especially Simon and Peter and the rest of the disciples.'"

"I will say nothing," I said to him. "Just tell me what you have done."

"I had to do something very quickly so no one will find his body," said Joseph. "I got Nicodemus, and we took Yeshua right away to the grave of my family, making sure everyone saw that. Then I put some of his clothes there, arranging them so that they would look as if they contained the body, but we only stayed there for a few minutes."

"Clothes? But what did you do with the body?" I asked him, perplexed.

"As soon as we were alone, Nicodemus and I transferred Yeshua to another place, which for the moment must remain secret. We rushed to do it as fast as possible, which was extremely lucky, because as soon as I came back to my family grave I saw Roman centurions marching toward it. I asked the Romans what did they come for, and one of them told me that they got an order to guard the tomb, and they must seal it first. I did not want to ask them who gave the orders, but I suspect it was some of my friends at the Sanhedrin…The Romans helped me to roll the big stone that usually sealed the grave. I felt so relieved, since I knew no one will get in anymore, and no one will ever know that Yeshua was not there."

"I don't understand anything, Joseph," I said. "Why did you have to go through all that? Why not simply bury Yeshua properly?"

"Just wait, Mary," he said. "I find it very hard to explain. I went your relative, Elizabeth, and told her what I did. She said that she would like to go and anoint the body in preparation for the burial. So I told her, 'You don't need to do that.' 'What do you mean?' she said. 'This is out tradition!' So I told her the truth. 'Yeshua is not going to be buried. He is going to be all right.' She thought I was crazy, probably you think I am crazy too."

I interrupted him, and I asked, “Are you mad? Are you trying to tell me that Yeshua is alive? How can that be? I saw him die on the cross, right after Nicodemus washed his face and let him sip some water. Did you witness a miracle? Is Yeshua really the son of God?”

“It was not a miracle, Mary, but the water were not plain water, either,” he said. “I know something about herbs, from my days with the Essenes.

I put a very strong herbal concoction in the water, one that creates a death-like state that would last a few hours.

And with the blood that Yeshua lost, and his weakened condition, he will be like dead for at least a night, but then he will wake up.”

My mother-in-law heard all that in total silence, in complete shock. She obviously could not accept the good news so soon after the horrible ordeal. But then she said, “I must go to him, right away. I have to help my child, whether he is dead or alive.”

“You cannot do so, my dear,” said Joseph gently.

“If you don’t stay at home, and receive your friends and neighbors’ condolences, the Romans will suspect something. Tomorrow morning, very early, Elizabeth and Mary Magdalene will come to see him. But you must be brave and stay here and pretend that Yeshua is dead and buried. It is essential if we are to save his life.”

And this is exactly what we did. We stayed all night. The next day, Mary stayed home, but Joseph came and led me to a cave, quite a distance from our village.

Nicodemus was guarding the entrance, and moved to let us in. Yeshua was lying on a large stone, which was covered with some soft blankets. He was exhausted and could not talk at all, but he was alive! Joseph saved him! I immediately saw that Joseph thought of everything. There was a bowl of grapes and olives by Yeshua’s side, and some flat bread, and a jar of water. And Joseph brought clean clothes for Yeshua. We treated his wounds as best we could, cleaned him, and dressed him with the fresh clothes. He felt better and could mumble a few words of thanks, but he was not entirely conscious.

“What will happen now, Joseph?” I asked.

“We are going to take Yeshua away, to the house of two fishermen I regularly do business with. They are very loyal to me, and one of them is from Tyre, which will ease our escape." We went there, a rather long journey, Joseph and Nicodemus carrying Yeshua on a large board which they covered with the blankets. The fishermen were waiting for us. They were really very scared, but they were trustworthy and kept their word. We took Yeshua inside the house, and there were two women there, one of them a Phoenician woman who rushed to help us, and took Yeshua to a small room where he could rest. We spent a short time with him inside the room, while the two other men were guarding the house.

"Mary," said Joseph, "Yeshua must leave Judea right away. He is in grave danger here."

"That is fine," I said. "I have some money, perhaps we should hire a boat?"

"Do not concern yourself with that," said Joseph very kindly. "Everything has been taken care of. You stay right here, look after Yeshua, and I will go and talk to his mother and his brothers."

The next day Yeshua's brother James came, with his mother; the other brothers and sisters did not believe what Joseph told them. But Mary and James came, and they could not believe their eyes. James behaved rather strangely, he told Joseph, 'What kind of trick was that? This is not my brother!' So Yeshua looked at him and told him, 'Do you remember the cut I had on the upper side of my left shoulder?' I knew he had the cut. So James, said, 'Yes, let me see.' And Yeshua showed him the cut, and James fainted. Joseph told us that by tomorrow at the latest, we would go to Tyre for a few days, then get a bigger ship and go the Island of Arwad. He had friends there, business associates, dealing with the olives and olive oil business.

I went to Arwad with Yeshua, Nicodemus, and Joseph, while Mary and James went back home to Judea.

Joseph told Mary that within a week, or ten days, I don't remember exactly, he would come back to Judea and take her with him to see us somewhere else. He did not tell her where we would be, just in case if she would be questioned. So Mary, James, and the other brothers and sisters stayed in Judea. We spent three days in Arwad, a beautiful small island. Many Phoenicians were there, of course speaking fluent Aramaic, so we could mingle with the crowd and nobody knew who we were. Nevertheless, we mostly stayed inside the house Joseph rented for us. We did not feel safe.

Then one afternoon, Yeshua was amusing himself doing one of his old tricks. He was trying to lift himself up in the air, attempting to fly, or float. He did manage to float a little bit. He used to do a lot of tricks like that. While we were enjoying his attempts, Joseph returned from an errand, and told us that tomorrow we were going to Cyprus, since Arwad was not really safe.

Unfortunately, I started to feel extremely tired, and I suspected I was pregnant, but nobody knew; I did not want to worry either Yeshua or Joseph, particularly since we were not married yet. We were planning on getting married, as we discussed before, but so many things happened to prevent it. However, now, there was not time to lose; we had to be married before the child was born.

But first, we had to get to Cyprus. So when we arrived, a few days later, the very first thing we did was to get married, and I felt so much the better for it. Joseph again rented a house for us, and then he and Nicodemus returned to Judea. Actually, his plan was to bring Mary to us. He was uneasy about her safety there, and so were we. One month later, he indeed brought her to Cyprus, and I was so happy to see her and tell her about our marriage and the coming child.

Joseph stayed a very short time, and then returned again to Judea. He warned us to stay put and wait until we hear from him before we did anything. And so we lived quietly, and Yeshua regained his strength, but he was limping, and could not walk straight without leaning on me as he walked. I realized that his full healing will take some time, but I was very happy in Cyprus, away from the trouble in Judea.

After another month, Joseph returned.

I asked him, in confidence, about the disciples. He told me to forget them, never count on any of them. They were cowards. Only Peter showed some regret, and visited Joseph once in a while. The others just went on with their lives. I am sorry to say that Yeshua’s brothers and sisters also avoided him, pretending they did not know he was alive. Fear would do such things to people.

Eventually I gave birth to my eldest daughter, Sarah. We stayed in Cyprus until Sarah was three years old, and in the meantime Yeshua found jobs here and there. Everybody liked him, but he lived very quietly and did not go out much. Most important, I insisted that he should not make trouble, or start preaching. No more stories or sermons. The truth is, he did not want to do so anyway. I think he had enough of sermons, disciples, and preaching.

Of course, he could no longer do physical work, so there was no carpentry or handyman jobs for him, which made him a little sad because he liked physical labor. But he put to use his considerable knowledge of languages, and became a scribe.

Once every five or six months, Joseph came to see us. Life was pleasant enough, but Mary never quite recovered from the ordeal of the crucifixion. She was so delicate, and the ordeal broke her health for good. Eventually she became very ill, and even though we tried everything to cure her, she died rather suddenly.

We buried her in Cyprus, but years later, Joseph took her body back to Judea for her final resting place, next to her husband, who was also called Joseph and who I have never known, to my sorrow, since he died before I met Yeshua. I still miss my dear Mary. Following Joseph's advice, we decided to go to Gallia Narbonensis, which had a few large Jewish communities. We planned to settle in Massilia.

Joseph went with us, and also an Ethiopian maid we had in Cyprus, a seventeen years old girl that Joseph brought us for help. She loved us and did not want to part from us.

Later, in Massilia, she married a very nice young man, had a family, and we still visit each other. On the way, I asked Joseph why he took so much trouble to help us.

"You went beyond friendship, even beyond family requirement, Joseph," I said to him with gratitude. "Why are you so kind to us?"

Joseph was quiet for a short time, thinking, musing. "I love you like my own family," he said to me, his honest black eyes looking earnestly into mine. "But it is more than that. I have caused Yeshua, his mother, and you, all the suffering that you have undergone. I will never forgive myself, and forever I will have to atone for my sin."

"You? Caused us suffering?" I asked, incredulously.

“Don’t you remember?” he said. “I was the one who asked Yeshua the fatal question during the trial. If I had not asked him who he was, they would have set him free.”

I had to cry. “No, Joseph, it was not you.

Certainly, the question was misjudged. But the Sanhedrin would have tried to kill Yeshua no matter what. Please, please, don’t think about it anymore.” We never discussed it again, but I don’t think I had any luck in changing his mind, the poor, good man that he was.

Joseph, of course, knew many people in Massilia, since he had much business with them. He took us to a small shop owned by a Jewish friend, who had rented a house for us and got it ready. I loved our house from the first day, it felt like home, even the smell of the house was a little like the houses in Judea, for some reason, possibly because we always lived in fishing villages, and Massilia was a fishing town. For the first time I felt really safe, far from everyone, Caiaphas in particular.

You see, until we came here, I was always afraid Caiaphas will somehow hear about us. He had his spies everywhere. But Gallia Narbonensis was far enough from Judea, and only business people, like Joseph, would have much to do with it.

Yeshua, too, began to get used to the place, and consorted with Jews only, since we thought they were the safest. He got a job as a scribe. He kept on surprising me. In Cyprus, I saw him writing Greek. I told him I never knew he spoke Greek, and he laughed and said, ‘I speak all the languages.’ ‘I asked him, where did you learn it?’ He said, ‘I learned it in Qumran, from the Essenes’. So here he developed more skills. He brushed up on his Latin, and started to learn Gaelic, he was so good with languages, so now with Hebrew, Aramaic, Greek, Latin, and Gaelic, business was okay, and life became comfortable. We had two more children, a boy and a girl. The boy is called Joseph, after Yeshua’s father. You can’t say he is named also after Joseph of Arimathea, since we are not allowed to call babies after living people. The girl is called Rachel. And you know our eldest is Sarah. They are all good children, I am happy to say.”

Mary Magdalene suddenly stopped talking, and I saw she was smiling at someone behind me. I turned my head, and saw a man entering the room.

“this is my husband, Yeshua.

Yeshua, this is a new friend, she came all the way to hear your story.”

We greeted each other. It was hard to believe that I was looking, meeting, talking with Jesus Christ. This pleasant, ordinary, normal man?

Could it be?

He was not at all what I expected. He did not have fair long hair, he did not possess an ascetic, pale face, or an emaciated body. Instead, Yeshua had frizzy dark hair, a little curly on the back. He had dark skin, black eyes, and was strongly built, stocky, and not very tall, probably five eight or nine; you could say he was a little plump, though certainly not fat, Just comfortable looking.

He wore sandals, a blue gray outfit, and carried two bags. One was a leather book bag, and the other a basket full of eggs and dry fruits. Jesus Christ, shopping at market? And yet, it had to be him, Jesus of Nazareth, Jesus Christ... There could be no one else with a history so similar.

I lost my head and I asked him, “Are you the One?”

Fortunately, he did not understand what I meant. He smiled and said, “I am sorry, what did you say?” Stupidly, I asked him again, “Are you the Messiah?”

He laughed like a child, and said, “Don’t bring up old stories and memories, all this is well behind me…” Well, at least I did not kneel before him. That would have not gone too well. So I recovered myself and smiled at him, just as if he were a normal new acquaintance.

“Let me make some supper,” said Mary Magdalene. “Please stay and eat with us. You will also like to meet the children, I am sure.”

“I am sorry, Mary. I really must go, I have to meet someone and go home.”

“May I take you where you need to go?” Yeshua asked helpfully.

“No, really, there is no need. I am meeting them by the shore, just a few steps.”

“If there is any trouble, though, and they don’t arrive on time, come right back, won't you?" said Mary Magdalene.

"I will. And with your permission, I would like to visit again, and meet the children."

"I am counting on it," said Mary Magdalene. We parted cordially, and I left. I was going to the shore, where I could be hidden from sight as I planned to give the code and go back through my Monitor.

As I was turning around the house, slowly, thinking about this wonderful experience, I was passing the window and heard Yeshua's voice. I stood for a moment, listening. I did not mean to eavesdrop, it was just that it was hard for me to part from these two wonderful people who meant so much to me, and I just lingered.

"Wait one minute, Mary, before you go to make the supper," Yeshua said. "I have something really interesting to tell you, which I want to do before the children come. I don't want them to hear it. It is downright amazing… there is a Greek man out there in the public plaza, he is doing what I used to do… but he is much smarter than me. He was preaching about God, and of all things, who do you think he was also talking about, to a dozen of people? Me! was talking about me!"

There was a short silence.

Then I heard Mary Magdalene say, her voice full of anxiety, even terror. "Yeshua, did you get in trouble? Did you do something stupid?"

"No, no, I did nothing dangerous. I just asked the fishermen, 'Who is this man?' They said he was a Roman, or a Greek, and his name is Paul, or Saul, or something like that… he came from Judea. They said he personally knew a demigod, Jesus, something like that… Well, I had to talk to him, because I know the language, and Jesus is a version of my own name. I was terribly curious."

"You talked to him? He could have gotten you arrested!" cried Mary Magdalene, aghast.

"He is much more likely to be arrested himself, my dear. He is talking blasphemy, while I am just the respectable scribe everyone knows around here… I took him aside and we talked for a short time. I said to him that I think it was I he was talking about…my name is Yeshua.

He looked at me, and his eyes were shifty, mean, and shrewd. I usually like people, as you know, but I did not like this man. He said, ‘Maybe you are, maybe you are not, my man. I really don’t care either way, because you don’t count.

I have come with a new religion, I have brought the Messiah. Don’t interfere with me – I plan to have a following all over the world.’ Now, when he mentioned the word Messiah, I just had to laugh, and so I slapped him on the shoulder and left him alone to continue with his business.” “So did he go back to his preaching?” asked Mary Magdalene. Her voice, I was pleased to tell, was not so strained anymore.

“Yes, he went right back to his preaching,” said Yeshua, his voice full of laughter. “I stood at a little distance and listened to him as he talked on and on. Do you know what he said? He was telling everyone that I died on the cross, and then I rose from the dead and came back to life!

Even I, in my best days as a magician, could have never invented such nonsense. Rose from the dead!

Can you believe it?”

The Prophet Mohammad:

Anbar Anati said, “Also, another major revelation about other great religions such as Islam, Sinhar Marduchk told me that the Koran, the holy book I really admire and respect, did not descend on Muhammad from Heaven, but he learned it from a Christian ascetic monk in the desert.

This monk was known in the area as “Raheb Bouhayrah” meaning, priest, or monk, of the lake. After all, Muhammad could not read and write, as is well known.

He had to remember by heart what the priest told him on a weekly basis.”

Chapter IV

The spiritual aspect of the aliens' revelations to Maria Orsic.

Chapter IV

The spiritual aspect of the aliens' revelations to Maria Orsic.

The question of the spiritual and metaphysical aspects of aliens' revelations was discussed at length and in-depth by Archbishops, bishops, patriarchs, monsignors, priests, scientists, astrophysicists, parapsychologists and university professors. In addition to the Aliens Transcripts of 1948 and 1949, another alien race from Aldebaran conveyed messages to the German medium Maria Orsic. These messages are known as the "Aldebaran's Messages".

Trance medium Maria Orsic.

First of all, who is Maria Orsic?

Secondly, what kind of link there is between aliens, the spiritual and metaphysical aspects of the "Beings of Lights" from Aldebaran, and Maria Orsic?

Maria Orsic is the mystic medium and creator of Earth's first UFO's (Vril) who said, "Organized religions will become frail relics of the past. And as science and technology advance, people of Earth will meet super beings from other galaxies. And they will learn great things. And they will discover their true nature. And religions built upon power will vanish.

The beings of light will return to Earth before or in 2022.

Major changes will occur on many levels. But the nature of humans will not change completely.

Earth will be visited by beings from different worlds who are willing to advance our standards of living everywhere on Earth, and reveal to us a new source of energy.

But unfortunately, only an elite which is ruling the world will benefit from their technology because people in power will keep it secret, and for themselves.

The beings of lights from Aldebaran told me how sad they are, and how disappointed they are by the Anunnaki for not creating us a better human race.

She added, “Stay away from organized religions, if you want to learn the truth and walk into the light.”

Orsic continued, “I am not afraid to go to Aldebaran, Jamara (Name of a planet rotating in their constellation) and Nimra (Another planet), for they (Beings of light)) told me that everything is going to be fine. Heike (A member of the Vril Society created by Maria Orsic) was concerned because we did not know their language and we were not familiar with their way of life and their habits. But they assured me once that we are there (On Aldebaran), they will re-construct our minds and bodies, and we will readjust ourselves…we will be very happy, and we will never suffer again or get sick.

Their world is peaceful and beautiful. They will teach me many new things and I will learn about the greatest secrets of the universe…I will have access to their universal libraries which contains the Akashic records of the universe…”

Maria Orsic shared her vast knowledge of and interests in the supernatural, metaphysics, religion, and the occult exclusively with members of her Society.

Unusual mystic medium and a psychic with unusual friends:

Maria Orsic, a stunning beauty and an unusual medium was not an obscure personality.

She was known to many celebrities of the era and had a fleet of very powerful admirers and friends both in Germany and abroad; famous, brilliant and influential people like Charles Lindbergh, Nikola Tesla, Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, Henry Ford, Eva Peron, and the most illustrious figures in the spiritualism, parapsychological and psychical research in Great Britain. This was reported by Allies intelligence and documented by OSS operatives in Europe. There is no doubt about it.

Maria Orsic was well-known in other milieus and had lots of influential people outside her circle who were very fond of her, to name a few:

1-Princess Stephanie Marie von Hohenlohe (She was Jewish).

2-Hanna Reitsch (Then, the most famous female pilot in the world).

3-Leni Riefenstahl.

4-The Horten Brothers, inventors of Horten 229.

5-Leading figures in science such as Professor W. O. Schumann from the Technical University of Munich.

6-Arthur Sack.

7-Dr. Eugen Sanger.

8-Dr. Heinrich Richard Miethe.

9-Nobel Prize winner, Dr. Dennis Gabor.

10-Leaders of the Theosophical Society recognized Maria Orsic as a true medium.

11-The British National Association of Spiritualists, established in 1873 (Name changed to Central Association of Spiritualists in 1882, and again to London Spiritualist Alliance in 1884) which included psychics and spiritualists of all nationalities, races, sects, religions and opinions, as well eminent English figures such as Dr. Stanhope Speer, Sir Charles Isham, Dawson Rogers, and Dr. Wyld corresponded with Maria Orsic.

12-Eleanor Sidgwick, President of the English Society for Psychical Research in 1932.

13-Dr. Charlie Dunbar Broad, philosopher and Professor of Moral Philosophy at Cambridge in 1935 corresponded with Maria Orsic.

14-French followers and disciples of Master Alan Kardec, the father of the world's Spiritism movement, revered her.

15-And most certainly the leaders of Madame Blavatsky's Theosophical Society of the era in Berlin, New York and India were in constant touch with Maria Orsic. Early writers of the Theosophical movement corresponded with her, and some Theosophists linguists offered her their linguistic expertise. It was a well-known fact in the metaphysical and spiritualism circles of the time, that one of Madame Blavatsky's associates who was an expert linguist in Hebrew, Phoenician, Akkadian, and Sumerian took a leading part in the translation and explanation of the extraterrestrial messages Maria received in an unknown language, later to be revealed a dead language of the Middle East which contained Ugaritic, Phoenician, Akkadian and Sumerian scripts; some passages were written in cuneiform, and others in a script almost similar to the Byblos Script, and Ana'kh, a language the Anunnaki used to communicate with the early Mesopotamians and Phoenicians.

This is an undeniable fact.

Maria Orsic was de facto the first person in history to have received some sort of messages not from this world. And I will elaborate on this, in passages to follow.

Maria's childhood and schooling: Nothing was unusual or exceptionally spectacular about Maria Orsic's childhood.

She grew up happy in a traditional and healthy family. She attended a Catholic school, and in 1915, at age of 17, Maria Orsic graduated with honors.

Maria Orsic's contact with aliens (Beings of Lights) from Aldebaran.

a-February, Saturday 10, 1917;

Maria's first telepathic trance-contact:

On Saturday 10 of 1917, and at the age of 19, Maria Orsic fell in a trance (or perhaps in a coma, for no apparent reasons) which lasted several hours.

As soon as she came out of her coma and began to regain her senses, Maria Orsic told her mother that she saw tall beings of lights not from this world who came to her and said that they will be back once she starts to feel better.

During her state of trance, two tall beings talked to her in a language she could not understand.

Sabine, her mother thought that Maria was deeply affected by what had happened to her, and made no remarks.

But Maria Orsic was absolutely convinced that something extraordinary has entered her life.

b-February, Sunday 11, 1917;

Maria's second trance-extraterrestrial contact:

Maria could not figure out what is happening to her, until she fell once again in a deep trance on February, Sunday 11, 1917; it was an event Maria will never forget.

On that Sunday, the strange beings of light appeared to her and told her that very soon, she will be receiving a very important message from them.

The "Beings of Light" warned her not to tell anybody about what she has experienced, except to mediums Traute, Gudrun, Sigurn, and Heike, who were members of her mystic society "The Ladies of the Vril Society".

Maria rushed to talk to them about that extraordinary event.

The women did not seem to be surprised at all.

On the contrary, they were very quiet and understanding, and told Maria that they were expecting her to come to them. Maria Orsic became confused and perplexed.

Sigurn reassured her that everything is going to be OK, and to expect to hear from them again.

c-February, Monday 19, 1917;

Maria's third contact with the "Beings of Light":

On Monday, February 19 of 1917 in the afternoon, Maria Orsic was revisited again, but this time, the beings of light gave her a clear message; they revealed themselves to her as messengers (Extraterrestrials) from Aldebaran (Alpha Tauri), a solar system 65-years away from Earth, located in the constellation Taurus, in front of the sprawling Hyades star cluster.

The beings of light communicated with her telepathically using mind transmission; Maria Orsic was able to receive their messages "mediumistically".

The Aliens' Messages

Extraterrestrials' messages in a secret German Templar script and ancient Sumerian–Ugaritic cuneiform/Ana'kh language.

Maria Orsic claimed that she received the extraterrestrials' messages in two languages totally unknown to her:

a-A German Templar script;

b-Ana'kh; part of this totally unknown language resembled an Ugaritic-Sumerian-Akkadian cuneiform style of writing, while additional messages appeared to be similar to early Phoenician writings in the form of the Byblos Script. Ana'kh was considered by the early inhabitants of the Middle East, Near East, and Anatolia as the language of the Anunnaki, the gods and goddesses of Mesopotamia.

Friedrich Delitzsch (September 3, 1850 – December 19, 1922)

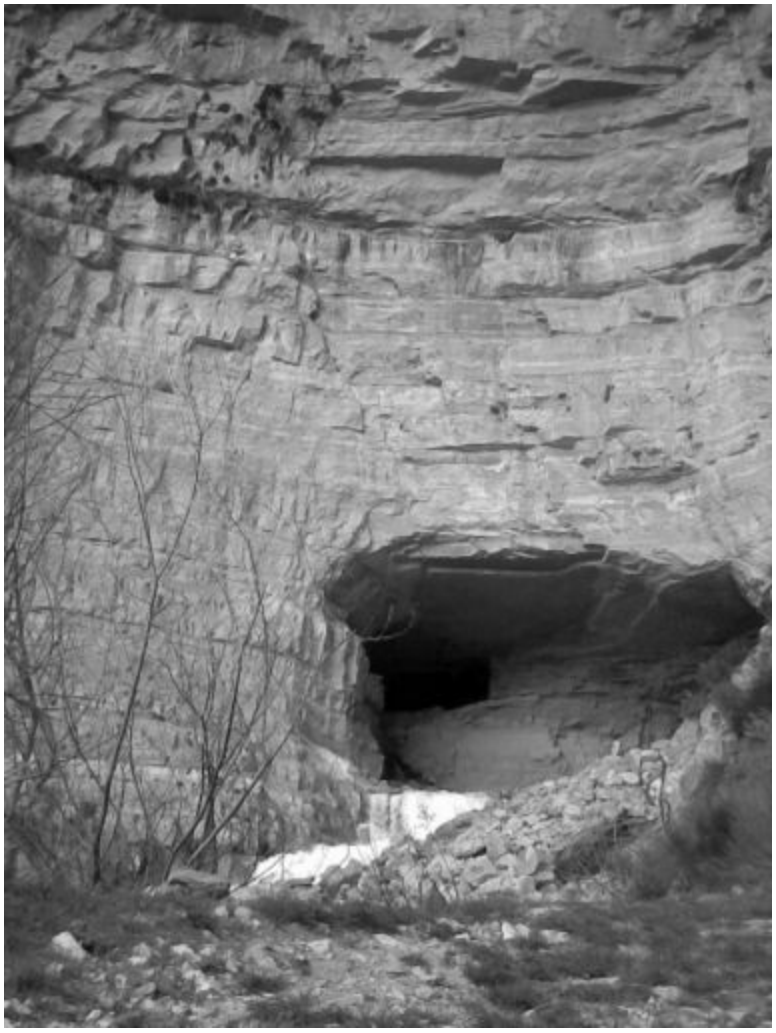
Delitzsch was a distinguished linguist, and expert in the ancient languages of the Middle East, especially Assyrian and Sumerian. At one point, he said that Maria Orsic's cryptic text consisted of a very Old Babylonian language and a script similar to Ugaritic cuneiform style of writing, but could not decipher the Ana'kh text which contained the Aldebaran's technical data on how to build a super flying machine. He was puzzled by Ana'kh.

Similar script found in Byblos:

In 1940, the Vichy Government (Headed by Maréchal Philippe Pétain, who following the defeat of France signed a cease fire treaty with Hitler) found in the basement of St. John Chapel in Byblos (Jbail) in Lebanon, an Ana'kh manuscript similar to Maria Orsic's script, describing an ancient Phoenician temple which served as an esoteric center used by the early remnants of the Anunnaki.

In addition to the script, a tablet was discovered under the second layer of the chapel's foundation, containing an archaic illustration of the Ana'kh symbols identical to symbols which appeared in the Aldebaran's extraterrestrials messages, Maria Orsic received. I found this fascinating!!

St. John Chapel in Byblos, Lebanon.



The legendary cave of Afka.

In 1937, a semi-official French expedition found around the cave of Afka in Lebanon, tablets written in an unknown language, quite similar to Ana'kh. The Anunnaki's Liquid Light or Mah'rit was mentioned in the tablets.

The messages Orsic received from Aldebaran contained two separate kinds of information:

a-First kind of information:

Mystical-Esoteric revelations.

Metaphysical revelations and teachings on the “Duality of B’nin and Binat”, cosmic awareness, enlightenment, origin of the human race, history of the early civilizations on Earth, Atlantis, Lumeria, other worlds, and how the universe was created, etc. It is extremely important to keep in mind that Maria Orsic was a mystic, a medium, a psychic, and a very spiritual woman.

Maria Orsic and Sigrud decided to create a small group of mediums and psychics, who would be interested in studying and exploring telepathic contacts with extraterrestrials.

Et voila, the “Alldeutsche Gesellschaft für Metaphysik” (All German Society for Metaphysics) was born, with Maria as leader (Head) of the Society, and Traute, Gudrun, Sigurn and Heike as charter-members.

Later on, the society was renamed “Vril Gesellschaft”, (The Vril Society), also known as the “Vrilerinnen” (Society of Vrilerinnen Women), and the women members of the Society were referred to as the Ladies of the Vril. In 1941, the society was renamed “Antriebstechnischen Werkstätten Vril” (Vril propeller or Drive technical workshops) and its status from a secret society to an open society was changed too, because Adolf Hitler forbade secret societies.

Maria’s Vril Society remained a secret society in essence, and was known in its milieu as “Die Kette".

It was widely believed in esoteric circles and mediums and channelers milieus, that Maria Orsic Vril Society, herself, Traute, Gudrun, Sigurn and Heike remained in constant contact with the extraterrestrials from the Aldebaran solar system, and beings of lights from the Constellation of Taurus, from 1917 to 1945.

Before the end of 1945 and the collapse of Nazi Germany, Maria Orsic left Germany to a destination, only few trusted associates and followers knew.

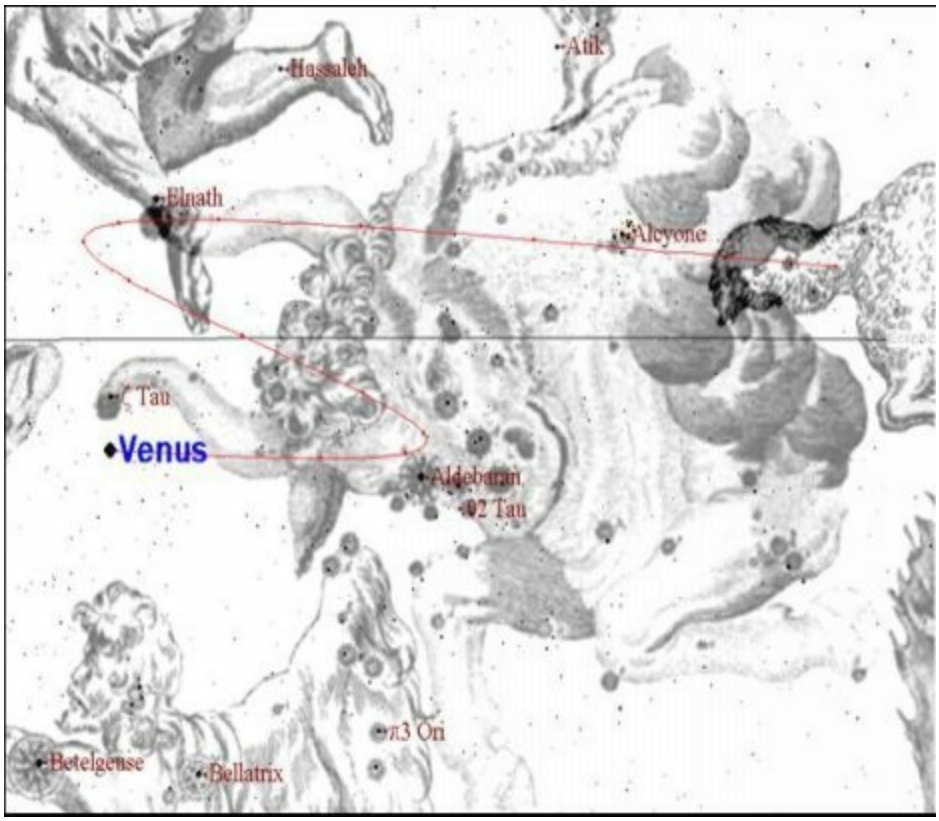
The Vril's Technical data:

This data contained Instructions on how to build a super flying machine, the "Vril", known in Old Babylonian, Sumerian, Akkadian, Phoenician, Hebrew and Arabic as Merkabah (Merka-vah) or a chariot.

The instructions included elaborate technical and scientific data, maps, sketches, illustrations, and calendars (Riz-Mana), and "mathematical images" she could only see in her mind, and receive telepathically.

Professor W. O. Schumann from the Technical University, Munich, who explained the instructions and technical data of the aliens from Aldebaran. Based upon the Aldebaran's instruction, the first German UFOs project was led by W. O. Schumann. Under his guidance, several disk-shaped flying machines with a diameter of 11.5 m were built.

Astrological location of Aldebaran.



Aldebaran in ancient religions, mythology, astrology and esoteric studies a-The Hindu masters called it Rohoni.

b-The Phoenicians referred to it as the Eye of the Universe.

c-To the ancient Persians, Aldebaran was one of the four royal stars, and considered to be the star of wisdom and enlightenment.
d-Aldebaran inaugurated the beginning of Babylonian-Mesopotamian year, some 5,100 years ago.

e-In the “Book of Chaldea”, Aldebaran was mentioned as the “guiding light -on the physical passage- toward the realms of the gods (Extraterrestrials).

f-The ancient Habiru (Early Hebrews) called it the Eye of Il “El” (God).

g-Eastern ascetics and numerous Buddhist monks called it the Star of the Buddha.

h-The Rouhaniyiin called it the realm of the Mounawiriin (The Enlightened Ones).

i-The early Akkadians called it the passage to heaven.

The stunning Maria Orsic.

Orsic, and behind her a German UFO.
I tend to believe that this photo is a montage. Fake!

Maria explains the ethical world of Aldebaran

Aliens' ethics:

"Aldebaran and Ash.Ta.Ri extraterrestrials live in a world our human logic and mind can't understand. Although they do not practice any religion, their sense and understanding of ethics, justice, good and evil deeds, and merits are well developed. They see the universe, the development of the mind and a person's character quite differently from the way we do.

They take into a great consideration the consequences of an act, even a miniscule thought. They don't have courts of law, trials, tribunals, prosecutors, judges, lawyers and corporal punishment, but they have established rules that govern behavior, merits, deeds, and social justice.

"Their families, parents, children, relatives, and members of their communities are guided by social ethics and a moral law, far superior to our laws and religions.

They have families like us…they feel like us…they work together in a perfect harmony, using a collective awareness shared by all…" said Maria Orsic.

(Note: This is exactly what Sinhar Anati said, and which I have published in one of my books on the Anunnaki.)

Worth mentioning here what Ulema Najani said on the subject:

"The Anunnaki have families, fathers, mothers, and children too, and they follow familial hierarchy, and family morality rules as we do here on Earth…"

Anunnaki Ulema Sharif Naser Al-Bakr said, "Unlike other extraterrestrial races and species that are not built around family structure and parental bonds, the Anunnaki live within their own families' perimeter, and show feelings and emotional reactions as we do…" He added, "The head of a living unit or a family is the father called "Raz" and "Abi". However, the family is always placed under the direct guidance of a mother. Anunnaki society is matriarchal."

What Maria Orsic told Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber about Jesus Christ and religions.

But first, who is Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber?

Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber was the Archbishop of Munich in 1945.

Quite often, he spoke publicly against Hitler and the SS.

Three days after he passed away in 1952, a Catholic nun from Munic found a letter in Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber's papers left in his desk's drawers, written by Maria Orsic, and dated Tuesday 7, March 1944.

Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich during NAZI Germany.

Maria's letter to Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber.

Maria Orsic's letter is of an extreme importance, for four reasons:

1-She predicted that Joseph Ratzinger will become Pope.

Worth mentioning here that Joseph Ratzinger was ordained priest by Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber on June 29, 1951, six years after Maria had left Munich.

In her letter, Maria Orsic asked the Archbishop to remind Father Ratzinger to reveal the truth about Mary Magdalene, once he becomes the Holy Father.

In fact, Father Joseph Ratzinger was elected Pope on April 19, 2005, and chose the pontifical name Benedict. Thus he became Pope Benedict XVI.

Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber laying hands on the head of Joseph Ratzinger, the future Pope Benedict XVI, on June 29, 1951.

2-Maria Orsic's letter contained the drawings of a rosette surrounded by two scorpions. This is quite extraordinary because a rosette surrounded by two scorpions represented the symbol of Inanna, the Anunnaki goddess who according to the Sumerian epics, took part in the creation of the first human beings in Mesopotamia.

3-Maria Orsic's letter contained a small drawing of a star surrounded by a Hilal (Crescent), this is also extraordinary, because a star surrounded by a crescent was one of the symbols of the Anunnaki, who genetically created the final form of the human race, according to the Sumeo-Akkadian cuneiform clay tablets found in Nineveh, Mesopotamia (Modern Day Iraq). The symbol appeared on numerous Mesopotamian slabs and clay tablets.

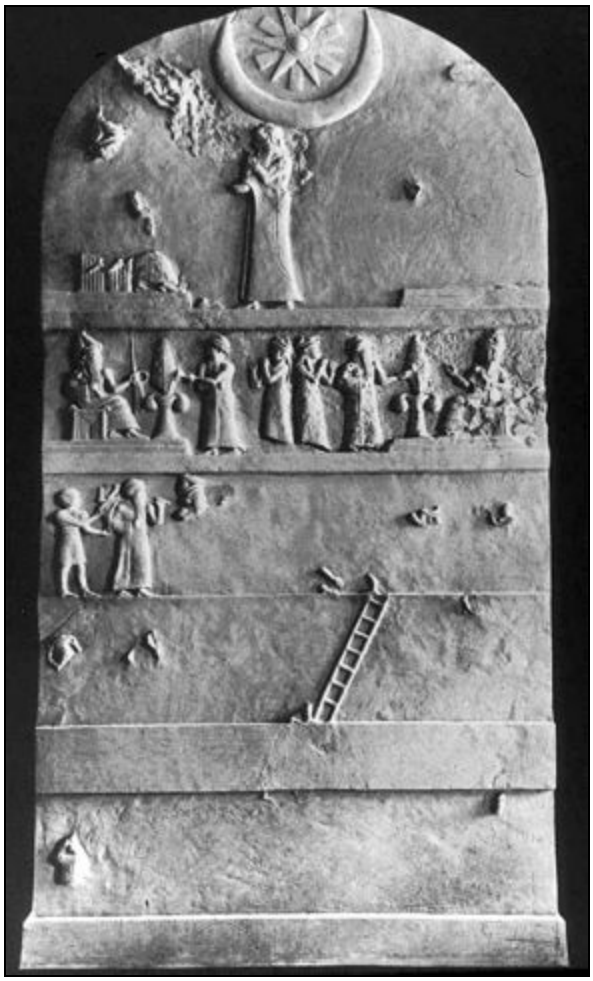
Sumerian Scorpions and Rosette, circa 3300 B.C. Gawra period. Stamp seal.

The cylinder represents Inanna’s symbol, which is the eight-pointed star or rosette.

Inanna, one of the Anunnaki goddesses who created the human races some 65,000 years ago.

Inanna, Anunnaki goddess in the Babylonian myths.

Identified as Astarte, Ashtaroot and Ishtar in the Uragitic and Phoenician literature.



The stele of Ur-Nammu, circa 2200 B.C. On the very top, the star surrounded by a crescent, Maria drew in her letter to Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber.

4-On the left corner of her letter, Maria Orsic wrote down the number 33.33, which represents the Aldebaran's extraterrestrials point of rendezvous with Maria.

Note on Stargates line; the 33.33 degree:

Maria Orsic called her super flying machine (UFO to others) a flying machine for another world; a flying machine for the afterlife; a flying machine for another dimension. Those were revolutionary concepts for her time, or unorthodox "Appellations", to say the least.

In her mind, that flying machine could enter and exit a different dimension, part physical and part abstract, simply by positioning the flying machine on a stargates line she called the 33.33-degree line of Earth.

Dr. Winfried Otto Schumann from the Technical University of Munich advised her to avoid implicating aliens in this scenario, and particularly the use of scientific words, since she was not a scientist.

The truth is, Maria never used scientific terminology, for herself admitted that she was not familiar with the technical data she received from Aldebaran, and/or any subject pertaining to aliens or extraterrestrials.

What was she trying to tell the Archbishop of Munich?

What kind of relation did exist between Maria Orsic, and the Archbishop?

These two questions remained unanswered to the present day. However, we do know that Maria met with Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber in Munich on three occasions:

- Wednesday 13, January 1943
- Tuesday 4, May 1943
- Thursday 24, February 1944

What Maria Orsic told Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber about the extraterrestrials, God and religions.

Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber

Cardinal von Faulhaber and Maria discussed several religious, philosophical and social subjects, including but not limited to the medical experiments of Dr. Rascher, the detention of 2,345 Catholic priests at Dachau, and Maria's extraterrestrial messages about religions, the nature of God Jesus Christ, Christianity, and the origin of Man.

The Cardinal's fascination with Maria Orsic's psychic and channeling abilities, prompted him to ask her if she would or could set up a séance to communicate with the spirit of Sister Franziska Streitel, the Franciscan nun who died in 1911.

Politely, Maria Orsic told Cardinal von Faulhaber that she communicates only with extraterrestrials; however, she will be glad to discuss with him what the Adelbaran's beings of light told her about God, Jesus, religion, the extraterrestrial civilizations on Earth, and the salvation of the human race.

The Cardinal was so eager and anxious to hear what Maria could possibly tell him about God, Jesus Christ, earth's religions and particularly Christianity. And Maria obliged.

Rabbi Israel Zolli, the Chief Rabbi of Rome, and a strong believer in extraterrestrial life-forms.

Rabbi Zolli was baptized in the Basilica of St. Mary of the Angels by Msgr. Luigi Tralia. Rabbi Zolli was considered one of the world's leading authorities on the Bible, Torah, Talmud and Jewish Scriptures. He served as the Chief Rabbi of Trieste for 35 years. Many, including Reverend Arthur B.

Klyber, a Hebrew Catholic priest (An Orthodox Jew who also converted to Christianity) believe that Rabbi Zolli took part in the translation of the Sumero-Akkadian-Ana'kh texts, Maria Orsic received in her extraterrestrial messages.

Reverend Arthur B. Klyber

Reverend Arthur B. Klyber, a Hebrew Catholic priest strongly believed that part of Maria Orsic extraterrestrials' scripts in Ancient Sumerian language was translated by Eugenio Zolli, the former Chief Rabbi of Rome.

A recreation of the dialogue between the Cardinal and Maria Orsic as told in 1946 by Rabbi Israel Zolli, the Chief Rabbi of Rome, who converted to Catholicism in 1945, and changed his name to Eugenio Zolli; he passed away in 1956.

Rabbi Zolli stated that Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber discussed with him part of his chats with Maria Orsic.

And here is a synopsis of Maria and the Cardinal discussion that occurred on Wednesday 13, January 1943 in Munich.

Note: By no means, the synopsis of the meeting on Wednesday 13 is 100% accurate, for it is a recreation by Rabbi Eugenio Zolli, however the Rabbi did state that the “Essence and truth are there…”

Maria Orsic dialogue with Cardinal Michael von Faulhaber.

Cardinal: So Maria…who are the Ausserirdischen?

(Note: Extraterrestrials in German).

Maria: They are beings of light and of a great knowledge and wisdom from Adelbaran.

Cardinal: What is Adelbaran?

Maria: Where they live.

Cardinal: How do you know that?

Maria: They told me.

Cardinal: Do they speak German?

Maria: No.

Cardinal: So how did you talk to them? In what language?

Maria: Mentally…they send me visions and messages I caught in my mind.

I have also received instructions and revelations in ancient languages.

Cardinal: What ancient languages?

Maria: A form of an old Sumerian language mixed with Ana’kh, as explained to me by experts and linguists.

Cardinal: Ana’kh? What is that?

Maria: Their language. They speak Ana’kh. It is the language of the Aldebaran people and the Anunnaki.

Cardinal: Anunnaki? Meaning what?

Maria: The Anunnaki are the extraterrestrials being of light who created us thousands of years ago.

Cardinal: What are you talking about my dear child. This is a blasphemy. Don't you know God created us? Didn't you read your Bible?

Maria: I did…I read the Bible many times, but the truth is not in the Bible.

Cardinal: What truth are you talking about?

Maria: The truth about who is God, who is Jesus Christ, who is Mary Magdalene, who created us, life on other planets, our origin…

Cardinal: The aliens told you that they created us?

Maria: Yes, your eminence. They did.

Cardinal: What did they tell you about God?

Maria: God exists only here…on Earth.

There is no God beyond earth and on other planets.

We created God.

Cardinal: Did they tell you anything about our Lord Jesus Christ?

Maria: Nothing at the beginning. Not in my trance.

However, we discovered later after reading the translations of the ancient scripts, that Jesus Christ's name was not mentioned as Jesus but as Imanuil. And I did not know who Imanuil was.

Cardinal: What did they say about Imanuil?

Maria: They said that he did not die on the cross. And he was not born in Israel but in Phoenicia. And I have no idea what and where Phoenicia is. They also said that he was a being of light and an exceptional healer.

Cardinal: Did you ask them about our Lord Jesus Christ?

Maria: I did not. I just read heard it in my mind when I was in trance. Maybe I have, but I don't remember everything I have said, asked or heard.

Cardinal: Did they tell you anything about the devil and his temptations?

Maria: No. Nothing.

Cardinal: So, if they don't believe in God, they would not believe in our Lord Jesus Christ either. Correct?

Maria: Correct?

Cardinal: What do they believe in?

Do they have a religion they follow?

Maria: No. They don't have any religion.

They don't need any…they know…they know the greatest secrets of the universe, and they know there is no God…they told me there is a cosmic logic, a cosmic law, some sort of benevolent and positive energy that created the universe and we are part of it…and the most important thing is to follow the light and be fair and just.

Cardinal: I see….Are they humans or angels?

Or something else?

Maria: We were created in their image.

Cardinal: Who created us in their image?

Maria: They did.

Cardinal: Why did they contact you?

Maria: They wanted me to create a spaceship.

Cardinal: A spaceship? What for?

Why didn't they contact the Luftwaffe?

Maria: Because the Luftwaffe is evil.

Cardinal: I see.

They are right about that…about the spaceship, tell me more, what are you going to do with the spaceship?

Do you know how to build a spaceship?

Maria: It is built already.

Cardinal: Who built it?

Maria: People I trust.

Cardinal: Possibly, your aliens could be angels or another manifestation of God's creation? What do you think?

Maria: I don't know…I don't know anything about God's another creation. And I don't think they are angels. They are simply beings of light from a very advanced civilization.

Cardinal: Did they talk to you about hell and heaven?

Maria: There is no hell. Hell is only here on Earth.

Cardinal: And how about heaven? Did they talk to you about heaven?

Maria: We create our own heaven.

Cardinal: Did they tell you that?

Maria: Yes, they did.

Cardinal: Did they tell you anything about the Immaculate Conception…The mother of our Lord Jesus Christ?

Maria: No. Nothing.

Cardinal: Did they say anything about the Holy Father? The Pope?

Maria: Nothing. But they said that the next Pope must tell the truth. And they know who is going to be.

Cardinal: I see. What truth the next Pope must talk about?

Maria: I don't know.

Cardinal: Didn't you ask?

Maria: No.

Chapter V

The United States and the paranormal-metaphysical-spiritual aspects of aliens.

Chapter V

The United States and the paranormal-metaphysical-spiritual aspects of aliens.

American psychics were called in.

During the early stage of the United States meetings with the aliens, (1947-1948) no less than three psychics and spiritualists were brought to the table.

One of them was a very-well known medium, originally from Bombay –but naturalized American. Two months later he was dismissed.

The psychics were not useful at all, and all their attempts to communicate with the aliens failed. Maria Orsic explained to us that communication with extraterrestrials is possible only if they initiate contacts.

The psychics were brought in because the military thought that the “Alien phenomenon” could be of a paranormal and a metaphysical nature, based upon the distorted opinions of psychologists and psychiatrists who were briefly hired by the United States Air Force.

Of course, and as anticipated, the military did not describe the aliens’ spacecrafts as a paranormal thing, because they have already started to call upon scientists and engineers to find out how their spacecrafts flew, and how the military could reverse the aliens’ technology.

Nevertheless, the mere idea that these aliens and their crafts were not from this world pushed the military to explore all the possibilities, including the supernatural and religious aspects of the phenomenon.

By the end of 1949, the services of the psychics and mediums were permanently terminated by the military.

But in March of 1950, one psychic was recalled when a major general brought to the discussions table the files of the “Vril-Gesellschaft”, and the Aliens Transcripts of 1947.

In 1959, von Braun stated: “We find ourselves faced by powers which are far stronger than hitherto assumed, and whose base is at present unknown to us.

Dr. von Braun.

Dr. von Braun admitted that Maria Orsic Vril was successful. In fact, secret reports show that he tried to duplicate one of Maria’s small crafts (UFOs). Newspapers in Norway, Germany and Sweden published articles to that effect.

More? I cannot say at the present.

We are now engaged in entering into closer contact with those powers, and within six or nine months’ time it may be possible to speak with more precision on the matter.”

The spiritual-religious aspects of the revelations of aliens are reconsidered.

Dr. von Braun, as he admitted much later, remained vividly interested in Maria Orsic's revelations because they were part scientific and part metaphysical.

In addition, while he was still working for the Nazis until 1945, he learned about Maria Orsic's Vril and the spiritual-metaphysical activities and practices of the Society of the Ladies of the Vril headed by Maria Orsic.

And upon reviewing the Aliens Transcripts of 1948 and 1949, he became fully convinced that the spiritual-religious aspects of the revelations of the alien we met in 1947, as well as the revelations of Maria Orsic in 1920 and 1921 were closely connected and related to religious and metaphysical beliefs. In fact, those very spiritual beliefs and convictions stimulated the determination of Maria Orsic for building the Earth's first man-made anti-gravity flying machine.

"Project Spirit".

Based upon the recommendations of Dr. von Braun, the military reconsidered the possibility of re-examining the religious-spiritual accounts of Maria Orsic, and the alien, which were totally disregarded, because they were of "no use for scientific and military purposes" as stated by the United States Air Force. Thus, the military hired parapsychologists psychologists, and two psychics/channelers to re-study the matter, and "Project Spirit" came to life.

The psychics were joined by Dr. Joseph Banks Rhine, founder of the Parapsychological Association. Dr. Rhine was known for his pioneering parapsychology laboratory and research center at Duke University. Dr. Joseph Rhine spent approximately 180 hours on researching and assessing the paranormal and spiritual aspects of the alien phenomenon, and related messages.

However, and once again, by July of 1950, all supernatural and paranormal studies of the aliens came to a halt. And from that moment, no more psychics, parapsychologists or Church's officials were asked to attend any forthcoming meetings with aliens.

Dr. Joseph Banks Rhine with his wife,
Dr. Louisa Rhine.

However, ironically or coincidentally, during that time (1950-1951), a "branch" was created by an intelligence agency to carry on research and experiments to develop very particular programs related to the power of mind, auto-suggestion, "psychic espionage", and similar topics.

And to set the record straight, the "Branch" was not controlled by the CIA, NASA, DOD, DOE, USAF, the army and/or other macabre secret and vicious agencies, as it was falsely claimed by some ufologists and conspiracy theorists.

As a matter of fact, the "Branch" was headed by a civilian psychiatrist, and entirely operated by civilian scientists, psychologists and physicians.

The "Branch" reported directly to a committee created by The White House. And for several months, the findings of the Branch, and the reports of the Presidential Committee were kept secret.

It was not until mid-November of 1951 that the Branch's studies, findings and reports were shared with other agencies and the military.

But the reports, recommendations, memoranda and summaries of the Presidential Committee were known only to the President of the United States and to two of his personal advisors/assistants; Dr. Vannevar Bush was one of them.

To keep in mind.

Charles Lindbergh

Charles Lindbergh:

Lindbergh told Carl Jung that the United States Air Force investigated hundreds upon hundreds of UFO sightings without finding any evidence of supernatural phenomenon link to the UFOs, because they were real machines.

However, Lindbergh changed his mind upon listening to Dr. Jung, who strongly convinced him, that UFOs are closely linked to a paranormal-spiritual phenomenon, and to some species from the world beyond, perhaps multi-dimensional and meta-physical entities.

Lindbergh admitted that he had discussed the subject of the UFOs and "Aliens spiritual messages" with General Spaatz, then Chief of the United States Air Force, and told him about Orsic's super flying machine.

Some have accused Lindbergh of having an affair with Maria Orsic, and because he was anti-Semite, Maria Orsic did not hesitate to tell him almost everything about the Aryan UFOs she was working on, and the metaphysical messages of the Aldebaran aliens

Rubbish! Maria Orsic never met Charles Lindbergh. And Maria was never anti-Semite!! However, both exchanged extensive correspondences .

Dr. Carl Jung.

Dr. Carl Jung

According to Dr. Carl Jung, the father of the “Collective Unconscious” theory, UFOs could be linked to the symbol of mandala.

On July 30, 1958, the New York Herald Tribune, published a report by the Associated Press from Alamogordo, New Mexico, about Dr. Carl Jung’s opinions of UFOs.

Here is an excerpt from the published article: Dr. Carl Jung, Swiss psychologist, says in a report released yesterday that unidentified flying objects are real, and show signs of intelligent guidance by quasi-human pilots.

“I can only say for certain that these things are not a mere rumor. Something has been seen.

A purely psychological explanation is ruled out”.

Dr. Jung, who had started his research on UFOs in 1944, issued his statement through the UFO-Filter Centre of the Aerial Phenomena Research Association (A.P.R.O.) here. He said: “I have gathered a mass of observations of unidentified flying objects since 1944.

The disks do not behave in accordance with physical laws, but as though without weight. If the extraterrestrial origin of these phenomena should be confirmed, this would prove the existence of an intelligent interplanetary relationship.

What such a fact might mean for humanity and religions cannot be predicted, but could alter the norms of morality.”

Aliens Rewinding Time Technology:

Through their rewinding time technology, the aliens revealed and explained to us so many events from our history’s past, and the truth about people who have shaped our beliefs, religions, traditions and distorted history.

In 1957 and 1958, the Gray aliens told President Eisenhower about the rewinding time technology. The military scientists and President Eisenhower did not believe it is possible, until the Grays “rewound the tape of time” to the point that the military were not only able to see a holographic projection of Jesus, but also to listen to his voice.

General Marshall was present at the meeting, and decided to ask the Grays if they could re-project an event that occurred in World War II, known only to General Omar Bradley, General Patton, General Eisenhower and himself.

He gave them the date and location of the event, and waited for the holographic projection.

The holographic projection was mesmerizing, and what the generals saw was accurate down to the very last detail. The Grays then went even one step further to reveal two letters within the holographic projection;

a) A speech to be given by Eisenhower in the event of a successful storming of the beaches of Normandy on D-Day.

b) A speech to be given, in the event that D-Day landing was a failure.

The existence and contents of the two letters were known only to General Omar Bradley and Dwight Eisenhower. Also projected were the six draft letters written by Eisenhower and his secretary.

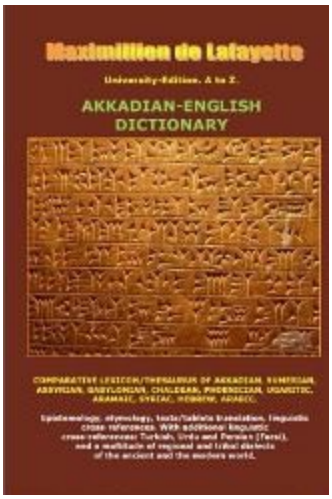
THE WORLD'S FIRST DICTIONARY-THESAURUS-LEXICON OF ITS KIND! A gem. A literary treasure! Written by the world's most prolific scholar and linguist who authored 21 dictionaries of dead and ancient languages known to mankind. Published by Times Square Press, New York,

Berlin. timesquarepress.com

University-Edition. A to Z. Akkadian-English Dictionary.



A massive book (3 Volumes in one) published by Times Square Press, New York and Berlin. University-Edition. A to Z. Akkadian-English Dictionary. Comparative Lexicon/Thesaurus of Akkadian, Sumerian, Assyrian, Babylonian, Chaldean, Phoenician, Ugaritic, Aramaic, Syriac, Hebrew, Arabic.

Epistemology, etymology, texts/tablets translation, linguistic cross-references. With additional linguistic cross-references: Turkish, Urdu and Persian (Farsi), and a multitude of regional and tribal dialects of the ancient and the modern world, written by the world's most prolific linguist, who authored 14 dictionaries of dead languages and ancient languages known to mankind.

A most unique dictionary of the Akkadian language on many levels; mainly because of its comparison and analogy between Akkadian and 14 languages of the ancient world. Thousands of entries, definitions and epistemological explanation of the origin of the word, its derivation and variants in other languages. Abundance of photos, maps, illustrations and sketches. Also available in 3 separate volumes.

Samples of how words are defined, translated and explained in Akkadian and other languages of the era and the ancient world.

• Daianutu: Akkadian/Assyrian. Noun. Judgeship.
• Dayono in ancient Assyrian means a judge; a magistrate.
• Dayono in contemporary Assyrian Western dialect.
• Dayono in Aramaic.
• Also Dayanu in Akkadian.
• Dayan in Arabic means a judge; a head of a tribunal or a council. Literally, it means the one who judges people for their deeds and actions at the end of time (Day of Judgment); in this context, it refers to Allah (God).

• Dayyan (Talmudic Judge) in Hebrew.
• Dayonutho in ancient Assyrian and contemporary Assyrian Western dialect means judgeship.
• Daianuta in contemporary Assyrian Eastern dialect.
• Din in ancient Assyrian means the law.
• Dino in ancient Hebrew.
• Dinatu in Babylonian-Assyrian means laws.
• “Dinatu attu-a in birid mati aganetu usazgu.” From the Behistun Inscriptions.
• Translated verbatim: “My laws amongst these provinces flourished.
• Dinu in Akkadian and Babylonian-Assyrian means to judge, and to rule.
• Bet diino in Aramaic means a court of law, a tribunal, and a courthouse.
• In Arabic, Beth-diin means house of religion.
• Beth-diino is composed of two words:
• a-Beth, which means a house,
• b-Diino, which means the law.

From diino derived the Hebrew and Arabic words Dayan, which means a judge, more precisely a Talmudic judge and a judge in a religious court.
Diino is Diin in Arabic, and its means religion.
In ancient Islamic literature and religious texts, Dayan refers to God (Allah) the judge who will pass judgment on dead people at the end of time. The primitive meaning of Dino was religion. In Arabic, it is Din (Religion), as well as Dayana, Diyana.
So, the primordial meaning was a religious tribunal. This is understandable, because in ancient times, all laws (Civil, social, military, penal, etc.) were based upon religious dogma and teachings.
Worth mentioning here, that there is a famous historic city in Lebanon called Beit El-Din “Bet Din”, “Beiteddin”.
At one time in history, this ancient city was the most important city in Lebanon and the siege of Emir (Prince) Bashir Chehab, the ruler of Lebanon, appointed by the Sultan of Turkey.
The Castle of Beiteddin, "House Of Faith", built by Prince Chehab is one of Lebanon's greatest treasures.
The palace reflects the typical oriental architecture of the 19th century.

• Eseru: Akkadian/Assyrian. Noun. Adjective.
• Captured.
• Imprisoned.
• Held hostage.
• Assyra in contemporary Assyrian Eastern dialect.
• Asyr in Arabic (Masculine form); Asyra (Feminine form).
• Asyr in Persian (Farsi).
• Esir in Turkish.
• Asir in Urdu.
• Asira in Aramaic, and it means a prisoner.

• Asira qrawa means a prisoner of war.

ANCIENT AND MODERN ARAMAIC ASSYRIAN SYRIAC-ENGLISH DICTIONARY. Vol.4
DE LAFAYETTE DICTIONARY OF ANCIENT MODERN ASSYRIAN SYRIAC MANDAIC NAZORENE ARAMAIC

Aramaic is the language spoken by Jesus Christ, the Essenes and the great Rabbis of the Talmud.

A set of 5 volumes of approximately 1,200 pages. Comparative Encyclopedic Thesaurus-Lexicon of Aramaic Arabic Akkadian, Babylonian Assyrian Hebrew Sumerian Syriac.

This book is a treasure, unmatched in its linguistic, etymological and epistemological wealth and clarity. Below are examples on how the dictionary defines words, refers to the epistemological origin of words, their derivation(s) and similar words with identical meaning and pronunciation in other languages & regional dialects in Semitic languages and dead languages of the ancient world (Middle East, Near East, Canaan, and Anatolia), and where words with an historical importance and linguistic value are found in the ancient tablets, on cylinder seals, slabs and bricks, the historical & social events surrounding those words, and who used them to make memorable statements.

A Definition's Example.

The words Bab and Babylon and their relation to Babilu:
Bab: Ancient Assyrian/Babylonian. Noun. A gate.
From Bab, derived the words Babi and Babu.
(The plural is: Babani and Babati).
The word Bab was used in many Semitic and ancient Middle and Near Eastern languages.
Some civilizations incorporated the word Bab in their most important symbols and national entity's vocabularies, such as the word of Babylon, which means the gate of God.
Babylon is composed of two words:
a-Bab, which means a gate,
b-Ylon or Eli, or El, which means god.
"Zahi asbuut bab rab suunnuu ana izikipi uzakeep." From the Annals of Sardanapalus. Translated verbatim: "I crucified on crosses 700 men around their great gate "
King Esur (Assur, Ashur) said: "usa shira gimir babaani." Translated verbatim: "I put around all the gates."
And: "mihriit baabi sin." Translated verbatim: "In front of their gates." From the Annals of Sardanapalus: "Zaabi tilai in babaati sa ersu ana zikipi lu uzaakeepi." Translated verbatim: "I impaled on crosses alive men at the gates of his city."

And from the slabs of Sennacherib: "Mihriit babaati." Translated verbatim: "Before the gates."
* Bab in Arabic.
* Baba in Mandaic.
* Babi in Ancient Assyrian.
* Babu in Ancient Assyrian.
* Babu in Old Babybolian.
* Babu in Sumerian.
Baavil (Babil, Babel): Aramaic/Babylonian. Noun. Babylon.
* Babel in Arabic.
* Bavel in Hebrew.
* Babil in ancient Assyrian.
* Babil in Akkadian.
* Babil in Old Babylonian.
* Babil in contemporary Assyrian Eastern dialect.
* Babilu in Akkadian.
* Babylonia in Arabic.
* Babilu in ancient Assyrian.
* Bab-El in ancient Hebrew (Gate of God).
* The Hebrew word El is of an Ugaritic-Phoenician origin which means God, and frequently associated with Baal, the Canaanite, Syrian, Phoenician and Ugaritic God.
The word Babilu appeared frequently on Mesopotamian clay tablets, and especially on slabs, bricks and seals of Hammurabi, Nebuchadnezzar, Purnapuriyas, Esar Haddon, and Neriglissar.
Nebuchadnezzar said, "Libu-ya ina Babel." Translation: "My heart is in Babylon."
Beth hbushyo: Noun. A prison, a jail.
* Hbushyo is Habsu and Habs in Arabic.
* Hbushyo is Habshu in Sumerian.
* Hbushyo is Habshu in Akkadian.
* Hbushyo is Habshuu in Phoenician.
* Hbushyo is Hbushu in Ugaritic.
Synonyms for hbushyo (jail) in Aramaic and Arabic: Habis,Sijin.

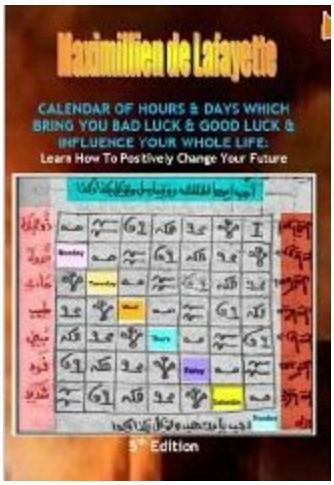
Calendar of Hours & Days Which Bring You Bad Luck & Good Luck: How to Positively Change your Future



Maximillien de Lafayette
CALENDAR OF HOURS & DAYS WHICH BRING YOU BAD LUCK & GOOD LUCK & INFLUENCE YOUR WHOLE LIFE:
Learn How To Positively Change Your Future
5th Edition

What is luck?

Merriam-Webster's definition of "Luck":

a- A force that brings good fortune or adversity.

b- The events or circumstances that operate for or against an individual.

But what is that "force" that brings good fortune or adversity? And how events or circumstances "operate" for or against an individual?

Merriam-Webster does not provide an explanation.

There is a force that shapes and conditions luck; it is the force of the Maktoob, meaning what it is already written in the "Kitbu Dounia", meaning the book of our life, the book of our fate; the book of our destiny.

And how do we explain the mode of operation of events or circumstances that work for us or against us?

The mode of operation of what constitutes "Luck" is always conditioned by unseen metaphysical factors, only known to the Anunnaki Ulema and Sahiriin.

Basically, these factors include:

Factors which influence your future and luck:

• Maktoob.

The fluctuation of the "Grid of Calendar" of the good hours and bad hours in our lives: Rizmanah. The calendar of hours and days of your life which bring you good luck and bad luck.

• Some hours are positive, others negative.

Kharta-Makan, which means your zone. In other words, where you live; the location of your home, office, and other places you have lived at and/or you shall occupy in the future.

Ismu, which means your name. It is very true that your name plays a paramount role on the landscape of your luck, future, success and failures.

In summary, time, places and even your name are part of the scenario of the film of your life on the screen of your existence on Earth, and beyond. The Enlightened Masters don’t believe in coincidence (s). They have told us that everything in our lives happened for a reason. There are reasons we fully understand as the consequences of our deeds, acts and decisions. And there are reasons we don’t understand. Are they caused by others?

Are they dictated by fate? Can we change the results, outcome and consequences of these reasons, and alter their effect on our lives, success, happiness, and failure? Yes, we can to a certain degree. This book will show you how!

The book includes:
* Factors which influence your future and luck
* The influence of the Anunnaki's programming of our brain and fate: A rare lecture on luck
* How to read Shashat; the screen of the unknown
* Rizmanah; Discover the calendar of your bad luck and good luck
* Learn how to remove your bad luck
* Learn how to create a good luck
* Daily chart/calendar of your good hours and bad hours in your life
* What to do and not to do during these hours and these days
* Best hours and best days, worst hours and worst days for * Employees
* Booksellers
* Writers
* Investment
* Real estate business
* looking for a new apartment
* Buying gold

How To Become An Effective Energy Healer And Master Of The Healing Touch

This book will show you and teach you how to become an effective and accomplished energy healer, and provide you with lessons, practical training, and step-by-step instructions on how to use the Healing Touch, find, learn, develop esoteric Energy Healing techniques which produce astonishing supernatural and paranormal results; techniques and know-how which were shrouded in secrecy for thousands of years; they are herewith introduced to the readers and the lightworkers as part of the official curriculum and training/orientation programs of the AFCPM (American Federation of Certified Psychics and Mediums). The present work deals with energy healing and not faith healing, for faith healing belongs to strong religious beliefs, angels' interaction and a multitude of factors which don't fit in the scenario of scientific and metaphysical healing, and don't relate to the contents of this book.

Maximillien de Lafayette
HOW TO BECOME AN EFFECTIVE ENERGY HEALER AND MASTER OF THE HEALING TOUCH
Official Handbook of the American Federation of Certified Psychics and Medium TIMES SQUARE PRESS

Thus, the study, exploration, training, and techniques as presented in this book pertain exclusively to bio-organic, mental-physical, and the extra-dimensional energy, emanated from the human body and the human mind, which can be revealed and detected in the laboratory, as well as in the immediate physical effects on the physical body, and our environment.

To become an effective energy healer, the practitioner must fully understand:
• 1-The nature of energy. In other words, what is energy? And how it works?
• 2-Sources and levels of energy.
• 3-How does energy (Bad or good) affect the mind and the body?
• 4-Techniques for animating and activating the practitioner's energy.
• 5-How does energy appear to those who can see it?
• 6-The meaning of colors of energy.
• 6- How to block negative vibes.

• 7- How to stop attracting negative people to your life.
• 8- How to discover the energy of the mind and the body
• 9- How to find energy's good days and bad days, and
• energy's good hours and the bad hours.
• 10- Ousoul; the universe's rules and the rhythm of the Micro Wheel and Macro Wheel.
• 11-How to reverse the flux of bad energy, bad days, and bad hours.
• 12- Mintaka Difaya: Protecting your zone.
• 13- The healing touch technique and mechanism, including the prerequisites and preparation.

The present work answers all those questions, and provides pragmatic techniques which enable the lightworker and practitioner to become an effective energy healer and master of the healing touch.

THE ESSENTIAL MAXIMILLIEN DE LAFAYETTE
THE OFFICIAL ANUNNAKI ULEMA TEXTBOOK FOR THE TEACHER AND THE STUDENT
Vol.1

THE ESSENTIAL MAXIMILLIEN DE LAFAYETTE: The Official Anunnaki Ulema Textbook for the Teacher and the Student. In 2 Volumes

THE ESSENTIAL MAXIMILLIEN DE LAFAYETTE is a synopsis of the 200 books, the author wrote on the subjects of the Anunnaki, the afterlife, the supernatural powers of the Anunnaki Ulema, the paranormal, the occult, parallel dimensions, multiple universes, the Conduit, the Supersymetric Mind, the Double, the Astral Body, communications with spirits and entities from the world beyond, the power of the mind, mediumship, channeling, the enlightenment, the Fourth Dimension, the Fifth Dimension, Earth energy, healing, the world outside time and space, extraterrestrials, time-travel, reading the future, and similar topics.

This is NOT a repetitious book. It was intentionally compiled from the most important concepts, theories, esoteric techniques, wisdom, Eastern philosophy, the world of the mystic seers “The Ulema”, and particularly the teaching of Maximillien de Lafayette.

This series consists of 2 massive volumes, each exceeding 700 pages (50 MB). This manual is also the Official Anunnaki Ulema Textbook for the Teacher and the Student. De Lafayette wrote more than 800 books, 200 of them are in these fields. Consequently, it is quasi-impossible for the reader to purchase all these books. The present work contains knowledge, techniques and revelations, no other author has ever discussed, simply because they emerge from the teachings of the author’s Enlightened Masters and his own philosophy. Add to the fact, that no other author or researcher has ever approached these topics, simply because they were brought to the West, for the first time in history, from the author’s own vision and perspective. You will NOT find the material of this book in any other work, and/or in any library. As a matter of fact, the material of the present work (Volumes 1 and 2) is to a certain degree in sharp contrast with what it has been said or written in these fields. No one can claim that this book was inspired by or based upon any existing published book. It is a journey to new dimensions, and analysis of the physical and mental worlds as interpreted personally by the author.

The contents include:1. Description of the Afterlife in all its states and dimensions. 2. What do we see when we enter the afterlife zone? 3. The various states of metamorphosis of the mind-body of a deceased person in the after-life. 4. Experiences dead people encounter in the next dimension. 5. How to bring good luck to your endeavors and surmount obstacles and hardship that prevent you from succeeding in life. 6. How to use Earth energy to your advantage and block others’ bad vibes and vicious intentions that are causing you harm and damage. 7. The first stage of the afterlife during the 40 day period following death, and how to communicate with your departed loved ones and pets. 8. How the Anunnaki created us genetically 65,000 years ago. 9. The mysterious and hidden world of the Anunnaki Ulema as the author knew it and explored it. 10. Foreseeing the future and rewinding time; revisiting your childhood and past life in different dimensions. 11. How the Masters, the Mounawiriin, and the Anunnaki Ulema transpose you from the present to the future? 12. How to develop The Supersymetric Mind. 13. Study of the influence of the Anunnaki’s programming of our brain and fate. 14. The duplicate image of ourselves or reproduction of our body in other dimensions. 15.

The early human species and races created by the extraterrestrials. 16. How to learn The Anunnaki Ulema supernatural and mind power techniques. 17. Entering a parallel dimension; Is it possible to enter a parallel dimension and leave there all your troubles? YES!

18. Occult techniques and talismans to protect yourself from others. And much much more.-By Dina Vittantonio, Editor.
